

Contract Talks On Steel

Prospects Less Hopeful to End The Coal Miners Strike at Once

By The Associated Press

Contract talks that may settle the threatened steel strike resumed Friday.

But the coal strike, entering its fifth day, seemed likely to continue some time—possibly a long time.

The U. S. Steel corporation and the CIO United Steelworkers, resuming negotiations, have one week before an Oct. 1 strike deadline.

They are at odds over pension and insurance demands by the union. The million member steel union complied Thursday with President Truman's request for extension of the steel strike truce—previously set to end Sunday at midnight.

The steel industry agreed Wednesday to the extension, and also agreed to resume bargaining. The union, arranging the U. S. Steel talks, told 520 other steel companies Thursday that it is ready to negotiate.

A fact finding board named by Mrs. Truman has vetoed a fourth round wage increase for steelworkers. But it recommended a company-paid pension and insurance program equal to 10 cents hourly per worker. The union accepted the report, but U. S. Steel balked at accepting without further bargaining.

Prospects Dimmer
Prospects for settling the coal strike seemed more bleak in the wake of John L. Lewis' statement Thursday that his 480,000 United Mine Workers, who had been on a three-day week, now are on a "no day week."

Lewis Thursday bluntly rejected a proposed two-year extension of the old UMW contract, which expired in July. He said the steel dispute is blocking a wage settlement for the miners. He reverted to his old policy of "no contract, no work."

His talks with operators of mines in the north and west were recessed to Sept. 29. Both sides reported a deadlock.

The miners walked out Monday in protest against suspension of pension and disability payments from the miners' three-year-old welfare fund.

The steelworkers reported Thursday that the Standard Steel Works of Levistown, Pa., had accepted the fact finding board's recommendations in full. Standard Steel officials could not be reached for comment.

Bargaining Session
Bargaining sessions between the union and steel firms are to be held in various cities.

In other labor developments:

1. In Washington, one Pennsylvania miner has filed a federal court suit charging illegal use of the UMW health and welfare fund. He asked for court appointment of new trustees for the fund.

2. In Cleveland, right wing forces at the CIO United Electrical Workers convention talked about seceding from the union, which is under left wing control, if it quits or is ousted from the CIO.

3. In New York, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service stepped into the dock dispute that threatens to tie up east coast shipping. Both the employers in the New York Shipping Association, and the AFL International Longshoremen's Union asked for federal help in the wage dispute. About 65,000 union members have set a Sept. 30 strike deadline.

4. In Altoona, Pa., state police were sought to help prevent recurrence of violence in Blair county coal fields. Mine operators used shotguns Thursday to hold 300 roving pickets at bay until police arrived. The pickets had threatened to dump truckloads of coal.

5. In Detroit, Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers planned to resume bargaining Friday afternoon on pensions. Tension seemed eased by postponement of the steel strike threat.

Centenarian Makes 1000-Mile Tour
JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Travel is a lot different today than it was when W. M. Loundermilk first came to Arkansas. It took him several months to reach Arkansas from North Carolina just after the Civil War. Today the Confederate veteran, who will be 102 years old next month, returned from a 15-day tour of three states, covering 1,000 miles.

He and his wife, 83, visited relatives in Tennessee, North Carolina and Georgia, traveling by train and bus.

Trio Survives Building Collapse

Curious crowds mill around the wreckage of the Valentine, Neb. Weekly Republican and two upstairs apartments after the building slid into an excavation adjoining it. Workmen who saw the building start to give way thought they had cleared it of all occupants. But Mrs. Werner Ohlmann and her two small children rode out the collapse and were rescued from the wreckage with only minor injuries. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Symington Not Appear Before Navy Court

Secretary Matthews Countermans Orders Of Three Admirals

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—Navy Sec'y Matthews last night countermanded a Navy court's demand that Air Secretary Symington appear in persons to tell what he knows of the B-36 bomber "smear" campaign.

Matthews stepped into the row after Symington gave a fast brush off to the request of a three-man board of admirals that he appear before the court. Matthews directed the admirals to make "no further effort" to get Symington to testify.

Order To Admiral Kinkaid
The civilian chief of the Navy sent the following directive to Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, president of the court:

"In my judgment, it would not best serve the purposes for which the court of inquiry was convened to require the Secretary of the Air Force to appear before your court against his will, especially in view of the memorandum he has submitted to your court dated 22 September 1949.

That was the memorandum in which Symington flatly informed the admirals he would not appear 'at this time.'

Symington said his refusal was based on two reasons:

1. By testifying before the Navy court, he might give the appearance of 'entering into an interservice controversy.'

2. He has already turned over most of the information he has on the B-36 row to the House armed services committee.

Not Disclose Report

Moreover, he said he has been "instructed" by the chairman of the House committee, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), not to disclose his report pending the outcome of the congressional committee's own investigation of the whole bitter dispute between the Navy and the Air Force.

The interservice clash centers on their respective roles in carrying aerial attacks to the enemy in another war.

Cedric Worth, a Navy official, wrote a memo charging that the B-36 was obsolete and hinting that there had been political skulduggery by defense officials in connection with it. Circulated anonymously on Capitol Hill, the memo led to a congressional investigation which blew up when Worth took back most of his charges.

A Navy court was then named to look into the origins of the memo.

Not Singing to Bemoan Game Loss

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(P)—There must have been about 50 women in the barroom singing "Sweet Ad-uh-line" last night. It surprised guests at the Hotel Claridge, who thought that perhaps downcast fans of the St. Louis Cardinals were drowning their sorrows.

But it turned out to be an organized choir singing to Harry Armstrong, 70, who composed "Sweet Adeline" about 36 years ago.

Armstrong said the women did fine.

Would Slice Proposed Hike

Instead Would Increase The Pay Of Armed Forces

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—About 30 senators lined up today behind a move to slice the pay increases being proposed for cabinet members and civilian workers who get $5,000 or more yearly from the government.

But the same group, along with most of their colleagues, seemed likely to support a companion measure to hike the pay of the armed forces about $348,000,000 yearly.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, brought the latter measure before the Senate amid signs of only scattered opposition. It provides boosts for most ranks from private to major general.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) who has been talking for months about trying to save some federal money, told reporters he would make a short statement against the bill but won't lead any fight on it.

It was a different story, however, that senators told about two other pay bills Lucas said will be brought up as soon as the Senate acts on the military measure.

May Not Get Increase

Senators McFarland (D-Ariz.) and Cain (R-Wash.) led a bipartisan move to send one of these, raising the salaries of cabinet members and other executives, to the Senate Expenditures committee for a check on how it conforms to the pattern laid down by the Hoover commission on government reorganization.

That would mean no pay boosts for the cabinet in this session of Congress. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said the expenditures group can't possibly complete any such study before Congress quits for the year.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a reporter he will oppose boosts in cabinet pay because of unsettled economic conditions and the effect such increases might have on industrial wage negotiations.

If the move to send the bill to committee fails, Cain said economy pleaders will propose an amendment under which no executive could get more than a 50 per cent boost in pay.

As it stands, the bill boosts cabinet members from $15,000 a year to $25,000. The amendment would put the top at $22,500.

Like First of Winter As Snow Falls

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 23.—(P)—It was the last day of summer—but in parts of Cortland county it looked like the first day of winter.

Patches of snow covered the ground yesterday at Monson's Corners, about a mile and a half west of here. Boys were throwing snowballs.

Strike Into Its Third Week

Negotiations Are Stalled as to Missouri Pacific

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(P)—The Missouri Pacific strike entered its third week today with negotiations stalled and no settlement in sight. Representatives of the 5,000 operating employees on strike rejected today the latest settlement proposed by Guy A. Thompson, the Missouri Pacific's trustee in bankruptcy.

The walkout was called as a result of 282 union grievances, each different, over interpretation of operating rules. There was no meeting today and the vice presidents of the four striking brotherhoods sent their answer to Thompson by messenger.

Thompson's latest suggestion was that both sides agree on some method of disposing of all cases that could not be settled by negotiation "as a condition of such negotiation, and further that the strike be terminated at once."

The union leaders said in their letter "we have pointed out to you many many times that we cannot agree to this procedure."

A spokesman for the unions said: "The question is this—has the carrier the right to violate an agreement made in good faith and then expect us to arbitrate claims arising out of their misapplication of the rules to which we have both agreed? We believe they do not."

Thompson has suggested several times that settlement of the dispute be left up to some tribunal.

The strike forced the layoff of some 20,000 other employees of the 7,200-mile carrier. It also has caused a sharp increase in production costs for many industries in the ten states served by the railroad. About 2,500 workers employed by industries and other railroads had been idled as a result of the walkout.

President Will Review Troops
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—President Truman will fly to Fort Bragg, N. C., Oct. 4 to review troops and witness parachute maneuvers of the 82nd Airborne division.

Senators McFarland (D-Ariz.) and Cain (R-Wash.) led a bipartisan move to send one of these, raising the salaries of cabinet members and other executives, to the Senate Expenditures committee for a check on how it conforms to the pattern laid down by the Hoover commission on government reorganization.

Kittens in Pipe Prevented Turning on The Heat

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—(P)—They think they have all the kittens out of the heating pipes at Oak Park Christian chapel.

All week the congregation has been shivering at the nightly evangelistic services because kittens in the pipes prevented turning on the heat. The Rev. James B. Shallow, the pastor, feared that firing the furnace would suffocate the kittens—and well—it wouldn't be pleasant.

Three weeks ago snowball, a white Angora, had a litter of kittens in a heating duct of the newly built church. No one is sure just how many. When the weather turned cold, snowball and her family became a real problem.

Rev. Shallow said it was so cold in the church the guest preacher, 19-year-old Miss Bonnie Cullins "could not get into her stride because she is from the south and not used to Michigan weather." She is a native of Kennett, Mo.

Was Called Satan
Earlier this week snowball and two of her kittens were lured out, but meowing from the pipes indicated at least one kitten remained. It refused all offers of sardines and milk to come out. The little devil preferred to scamper about in the air duct. So the congregation called it Satan.

Then Otto Prochazka, an electrician, heard about the church's problem. He volunteered to clear the heating system of kittens. It was simple enough, he said. With a long wire he rattled about inside the ducts. The kitten skipped about just ahead of the wire, and—finally—out popped Satan among the pews.

There was rejoicing—but not for long. The kitten disappeared again in a small opening behind the pulpit.

Prochazka pried up a piece of moulding and once again produced the kitten.

Just to make sure all kittens were accounted for, he checked the ducts with a mirror, flashlight and the long wire. All clear, he reported last night.

The congregation hopes he's right. He'd better be. Rev. Shallow says they're turning on the heat for the services tonight.

Senate Votes Its Approval On Arms Aid

Vote of 55 to 24 to Accord it Friendly Nations

By on Whitehead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—The administration chalked up an important victory in foreign policy today on the strength of the Senate's 55 to 24 approval of an overseas arms program.

The Senate reached its decision late yesterday to rearm the friendly nations after beating down two moves to make a $200,000,000 cut in the $1,314,010,000 arms bill.

The measure came through the Senate with only two minor changes. This was in part a personal triumph for Senator Connally (D-Tex) and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the two party leaders in foreign affairs who led the fight for the aid program.

Nineteen Republicans joined 36 Democrats in voting for passage. Ten Democrats and 14 Republicans voted against it.

Connally told reporters: "As chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, I am highly gratified at passage of the program and delighted over the defeat of the crippling and enfeebling amendments."

In the debate, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) contended that the program contemplates arming every nation in the world that might be opposed to Russia. This, he said, "is likely to incite Russia to war."

But Vandenberg argued that the goal is "stopping aggression before it reaches us." Had the foreign aid program to date been less successful than it has been, he said, "we probably would be voting billions" to fight a defensive war.

Amount Not Fixed

The Senate's vote pledged Congress to a foreign arms program since the House already has approved a similar military aid bill. The amount of money to be authorized remains in doubt.

The House voted $569,505,000 to carry out the arms plan—which is $444,505,000 less than the Senate figure. Senate and House members will work out their differences in conference.

The biggest surprise in the voting was the administration's strength in defeating an economy move which had worried Senate leaders. The decisive vote was 46 to 32 against an amendment by Sen. George (D-Ga) to trim $200,000,000 off the one billion dollars set aside in the arms aid program for western Europe.

As the Senate bill now stands, it provides: $1,000,000,000 for re-arming the (Please turn to Page 6, Column 3)

Reports $35,000 In Gems Stolen

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—(P)—A Chicago jewelry salesman, Al Rosenfeld, told police $35,000 worth of diamonds and rings were stolen from his hotel room here last night while he ate dinner.

Rosenfeld said he had left the jewelry in an unlocked bag in his closet because he always tried to act like he was not carrying anything valuable. He has been calling on customers here seven years and never was robbed before while on a sales trip, he said.

The salesman said the loss was covered partly by insurance.

Police Sgt. William J. Butch said the thief apparently entered the room with a skeleton key. A $2,000 diamond and platinum bracelet was not taken from a dresser drawer.

Trucks Out of Service

Two trucks used by the Missouri Pacific, which operated between Jefferson City and Sedalia, and between Sedalia and Kansas City, taking care of intermediate stops in small towns with mail, freight and express, are out of the running due to the strike.

The express company operates at the depot nearly 24 hours every day.

Loren Atterbury Commander

Loren Atterbury was elected the new commander of the Sedalia Post No. 342, American Legion Thursday night, to succeed Lester Dennis, who recently resigned when he went to St. Louis to accept a position.

The newly elected commander was installed by S. J. Timbrious, past Seventh District commander.

Delegates elected to represent the post at the Seventh District meeting to be held in Higginsville next Sunday were: Lester Dennis, Earl Edwards, Lacey Howe and S. J. Timbrious.

During the meeting several new members were voted into the post.

Expect Blackmer To Plead Guilty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—A justice department official said today that Henry M. Blackmer will settle his score with the government by a guilty plea to one of the 21-year-old tax evasion indictments standing against him.

The government will then drop the five other indictments, charging tax evasion and perjury, this official said.

The action, if carried out, would subject the 81-year-old Denver millionaire, who has been in exile in Europe for the last 25 years, to a possible prison term of one year and a fine of $5,000.

Painting Church Red, White, Blue

BOLTON-UPON-DEARNE, Eng. Sept. 23.—(P)—The 900-year-old parish church here is being repainted red, white and blue.

A coat of crimson has been ordered by the Rev. Donald Sparks for eight ancient pews. Walls will be white, while the church door and porch probably will be indigo blue.

Sheffield's diocesan advisory board gave its blessing to the experiment.

"The idea," Mr. Sparks explained, "is to get rid of the workhouse atmosphere."

Have Week of Compensation Due at Present

Shopmen Serve Out That Time in Waiting Period

The Missouri Pacific railroad shop employees in Sedalia now have one week of unemployment compensation coming to them, which reaches a maximum of $25 a week, and is based on wages earned during 1948. The local employees served out a seven-day waiting period for unemployment checks last Friday. They have to sign up every Friday for these checks which have not been mailed out as yet.

The 1,500 some odd employees affected directly and indirectly by the strike, have the first half of September checks from the railroad coming to them, and they will be paid the first of next week. The checks are payment for six days' work.

If the shop workers take on odd paying jobs during the strike, they forfeit their unemployment compensation, so many of the railroad men are catching up on odd jobs around the home, such as painting and cleaning around the house, rather than accept paying jobs. Others are taking advantage of the "workless period" by going fishing.

Some Still On Duty

Approximately 15 men are still on the payroll at the local shops. They are the superintendent, general foreman, district storekeeper, superintendent of the reclaim department, signal relay foreman and the chief clerk, as well as eight or nine men in the power plant, including the power plant engineer.

The Missouri Pacific depot in Sedalia, according to one employee who has worked there 32 years, is undergoing its first shutdown period since it was built in 1884. Except for claim agent and division passenger and freight agents and express company offices remaining open, the depot is a spot of aloofness. Not a single Missouri Pacific train has rolled past the depot since the strike. In normal times, number 12, 5, 6, 14, 11, 19, 10, 20, 9 and number 695 and 696 (a branch train from Sedalia to Lexington) rolled down the tracks.

Evidence Russia Has At Last Learned To Make Atomic Bomb

Agree on a U.S. Of Indonesia

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Sept. 23.—(P)—Dutch and Indonesian negotiators have unanimously accepted the main points of a statute setting up a United States of Indonesia under the Dutch crown, it was learned today.

The three parties to the round table talks—the Dutch, the Indonesian Republicans and the Indonesian Federalists—formally notified the conference steering committee of their acceptance of the main points. The talks have been under way here for a month.

These were the points of agreement:

1. The character of the union statute.
2. The positions and functions of the heads of the union.
3. The Duties and composition of the conference of ministers of the union partners. These conferences will be held at regular intervals.
4. The duties and composition of the union's arbitration court.
5. Contact and cooperation among the parliaments of the union partners.

Doubt Threat Of War Will Be Increased

Some of Reasons In View Are Enumerated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—Here are some reasons why responsible administration officials believe Russia's atomic explosion does not increase the threat of war:

1. The United States got a four year head start on the bomb and has been perfecting and stockpiling atomic weapons at a maximum rate.

2. The Soviet explosion does not necessarily mean that the Russians have materials to make another bomb immediately. It is more likely that they would have tested the first one they made out of the first materials they manufactured.

3. The military effectiveness of an a-bomb depends not only on its own power but on the ability of the country using it to deliver it to the target.

4. The bomb probably would not be used by the Russians, or any other people, unless they felt reasonably safe from retaliation.

5. Possession of the bomb does not end other weaknesses. No sensible government in the world would use the bomb to start a war without being convinced of its own total strength to win the war.

6. The question of whether Russia wants a great war with the west, now or in the future, must of one weapons but in terms of be answered not by the existence Russia's whole approach to world affairs.

WINDY CENTER—Research scientists at the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics' Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory in Cleveland, O., install a model plane in the 8- by 6-foot test section of the world's largest supersonic wind tunnel. The new tunnel produces wind speeds of up to 1500 miles per hour—twice the speed of sound. Airstream and speed in the tunnel are controlled by flexing the one-inch-thick stainless steel side plates. Fourteen hydraulically operated screw jacks are needed to do the flexing.

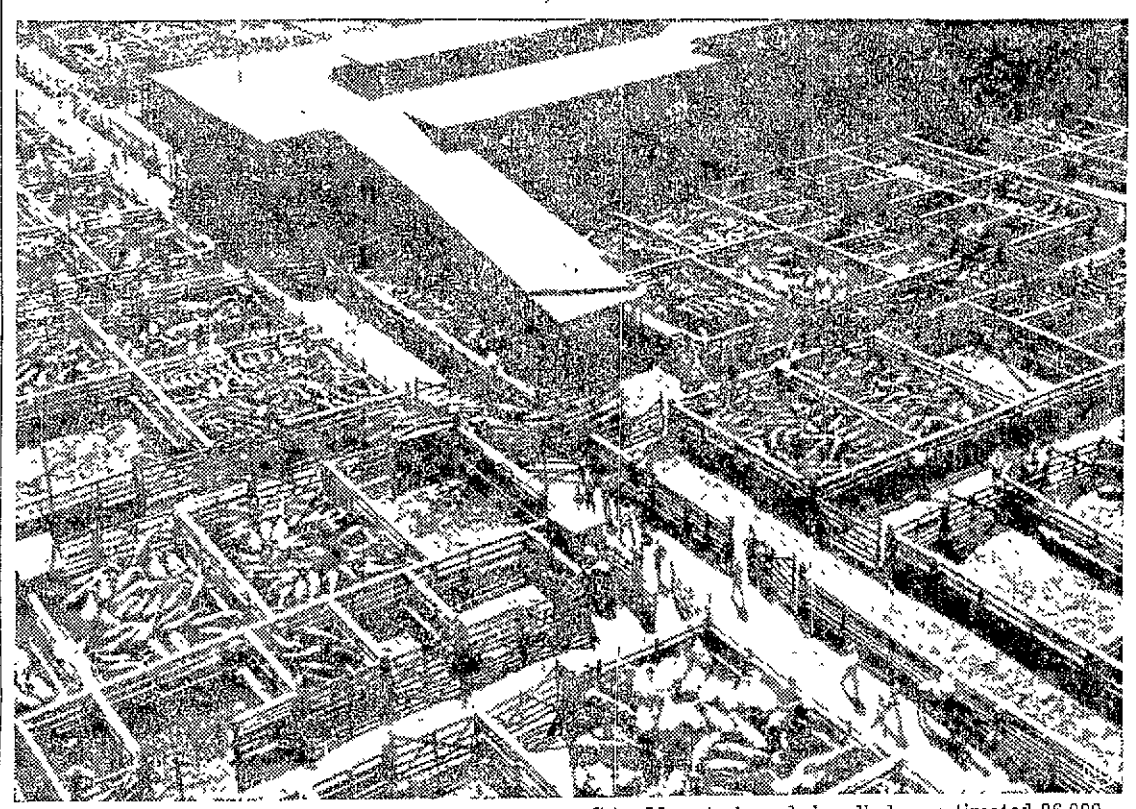

WORLD'S LARGEST SUPERSONIC WIND TUNNEL—The engineers are dwarfed by the "nerve center" of the world's largest faster-than-sound wind tunnel, now in operation at the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics' Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory at Cleveland, O. Two halves of the stator blade housing have been opened, showing the rotor blades on the massive shaft. Powered by three electric motors, connected in tandem and providing 37,000 horsepower, the tunnel produces winds of 1000 to 1500 miles per hour—up to twice the speed of sound. The 8- by 6-foot test section provides the first opportunity to study large models of turbojet and ram-jet engines in actual operation at supersonic speeds, and under conditions of temperature and pressure found at 35,000 feet altitude.

RECORD RUN OF BEEFSTEAK—The Kansas City, Mo., stockyards handled an estimated 26,000 head of beef cattle in one day—for its biggest day since last Oct. 25, when some 30,000 head were unloaded. The view above shows the yards during the peak cattle run, which might help bring lower prices for beefsteak.

NEW CONSTRUCTION STILL BOOMING—The chart above, based on figures from the Departments of Commerce and Labor, shows trends of new construction in the United States to mid-year 1949. Total estimated new construction in July, 1949, was valued at $1,913,000,000, compared to $1,874,000,000 for July, 1948. This represented an increase of more than 2% per cent over June, 1949. Private building gained somewhat more than averages for years and public construction somewhat less. Monthly construction for this since 1939 are given at left in the chart. New construction for this year appears well on the way to matching 1948's record monthly average value of $1,565,000,000.

$200,000,000 For Missouri River Basin

Details Of Program For Development Are Unfolded At Meeting

POWELL, Wyo., Sept. 23—(AP)—Details of a $200,000,000 development program for the northwestern rim of the Missouri river basin were unfolded here Thursday.

Bureau of reclamation officials outlined for the Missouri basin inter-agency committee their plans for bringing a quarter of a million more acres of land in northern Wyoming under irrigation.

The committee, headed by Chairman W. G. Sloan of Billings, Mont., opened a one-day session here. Chief work before the committee was a review of plans for further development of the area embracing the northwestern end of the vast Missouri basin.

Six Governors Attend
Four of six governors on the committee were present. They were Gov. A. G. Crane of Wyoming, Gov. Fred Aandahl of North Dakota, Gov. George Mickelson of South Dakota and Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska. The governors of Montana and Missouri had representatives at the meeting.

Ralph H. Workinger of Cody, Wyo., manager of the reclamation bureau's Big Horn district, said the $200,000,000 program would require 15 to 20 years. It would add 250,000 acres of irrigated land, furnish additional water for 85,000 acres under irrigation, and add 137,000 kilowatts to the area's generating capacity.

The area involved is now served by the Shoshone and Riverton projects and the multi-million dollar Boysen dam project in central Wyoming.

Attack Miller Statements
Committee members attacked statements made by former Governor Leslie A. Miller of Wyoming on development of the Missouri river basin.

Miller, a member of the national resources task force of the Hoover commission, in a recent magazine article assailed some of the planning for the Missouri basin.

Chairman Sloan declared Miller was not sufficiently informed about the basin and some of its projects.

Gov. Peterson also lashed out at Miller by declaring he was damaging the entire development of the basin with misinformation.

"The people of Wyoming should organize and fight back at the article and statements by former Governor Miller," Peterson said. "It is time to combat this sort of thing."

The committee will remain in Powell through Friday to attend a public drawing for 104 homestead units being opened on the Shoshone project. Governor Peterson will be one of the speakers at the drawing.

Flames Damage Whaling Station

A dense cloud of black oil smoke pours from the main building of the Field's Landing Whaling Station near Eureka, Calif. A $50,000 fire swept through the rendering plant, destroying the oil-soaked walls of the main building (center) and spreading to a nearby structure housing the plant boiler room. Plant manager Herman Folaud said he doubted the station, which has processed 40 whales, could be put back in operation this year. (AP Wirephoto)

Miners Welfare Trustees Sued

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—A 54-year-old beneficiary of the coal miners welfare fund charged John L. Lewis and other trustees with making illegal expenditures out of the $100,000,000-a-year fund.

The life-long coal miner, G. H. Livengood of Fayette County, Pa., asked the federal court here to remove Lewis and other trustees and require them to give a full accounting.

"The reason I brought this suit," Livengood said in a statement, "was to get the racketeering out of the welfare and retirement fund and to protect the workers in the future from the uncontrolled administration of this fund."

Livengood also asked the court to take over supervision of the fund permanently and name new trustees answerable to the court.

The trustees whom he accused of "malfeasance in office" as trustees are Lewis, Senator Bridges (R-NH) and Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland. Van Horn, who represents coal operators, submitted his resignation last week. Lewis is head of the United Mine Workers

Must Return Slot Machines

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 23—(AP)—Holding that the state had failed to produce evidence to legally support its plea for an order to destroy 24 slot machines seized at three private clubs here August 22, Magistrate James B. Greer Thursday ordered the machines, with jackpots intact, returned to the clubs.

Without waiting for Sheriff George Hickam to redeliver them to the clubs, the owners voluntarily offered to accept them on the spot as they stood arrayed around the courtroom, and speedily carted them away.

The four-hour trial before a packed courtroom was highlighted by an admission on the witness stand by Sheriff Hickam that he gave his deputies two illegal search warrants before they went to two of the clubs, and had no search warrant for the raid on the third. He said, however, he did not know the search warrants were illegal until after the raids had been made and the slots seized.

Hickam testified that the warrants were obtained by him several months ago for an entirely different purpose, and that his office deputy filled them out against the clubs over the affixed signature of Magistrate Greer and without any formal application or affidavit attached.

Prospective Fathers Justified In Speeding

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—(AP)—Magistrate Morris Rothenberg ruled prospective fathers are justified in speeding in a race with the stock.

He wrote off a charge against Burton M. Sloane, industrial designer, who edged out the stock in a race to the hospital—only to be slapped with a ticket for speeding.

Last Aug. 27, Sloane bundled his wife Mae, in his car and started off on a mad dash to the hospital. Motorcycle Patrolman Francis McDermott stopped the speeding car on Riverside Drive.

Sloane explained the need for speed. So with siren wailing, McDermott escorted the hurried father-to-be and his wife to the hospital.

There, the policeman hurried

Mrs. Sloane inside—then hurried back out and handed Sloane the ticket.

Mrs. Sloane gave birth to a daughter, the couple's first child.

Price Conditions Not Healthy Sign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said that middlemen are keeping food prices up either through inefficiency or profit grabbing and "the situation should be remedied."

Gillette, opened a Senate food price inquiry, said that commodity prices recently declined 20 per cent but wholesale prices dropped only 10 per cent and the consumer at retail got only a three per cent reduction. He quoted a federal reserve official.

This is not a healthy sign, he said, "and means either that processors and distributors are inefficient in their operations or are exacting an inordinate profit." He

Extend Strike Truce

President Reports He Is Hopeful For Settlement Of The Prolonged Dispute

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22—(AP)—The nation today escaped a steel strike—at least for a week and maybe indefinitely. CIO and Steel are going to renew contract talks tomorrow.

President Truman told a news conference in Washington that the outlook is very hopeful for settlement of the prolonged labor dispute and no strike.

Philip Murray's United Steelworkers went along with industry and abided by Mr. Truman's wishes for extension of the strike armistice from Saturday midnight until 12:01 a. m., October 1.

The million-member union's policy committee also authorized Murray to go back to the bargaining table in an effort to settle promptly the insurance-pension war. That also is Mr. Truman's expressed wish.

Murray Calls On U. S. Steel

Within an hour Murray called on the powerful United States Steel corporation—it's the leader and industry usually follows—for renewal of bargaining talks at 8:30 a. m. (CST) in Pittsburgh tomorrow. U. S. Steel president Benjamin F. Fairless accepted.

Murray also sent telegrams to 52 other steel companies telling them the steelworkers are ready to negotiate.

The union said one company, Standard Steel Works of Lewisport, Pa., a subsidiary of Baldwin locomotive, has accepted in full the report of the President's fact-finding board.

The union and company will meet Monday to complete an agreement, providing 10 cents hourly for insurance and pensions, a steelworkers spokesman said.

Conferences with Rustless Steel, a subsidiary of American Rolling Mills, got under way this afternoon. A session with Northwestern Steel and Wire is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at Waukegan, Ill.

To Hold Other Sessions

The union said bargaining sessions with steel firms will be held in all the major steel centers in the country—with U. S. Steel in Pittsburgh, Bethlehem Steel in New York, Republic Steel in Cleveland, Youngstown Sheet and Tube in Youngstown, Inland Steel in Chicago, Great Lakes Steel in Detroit, Jones and Laughlin in Pittsburgh, and Continental Steel in Indianapolis.

The steelworkers' meeting today followed messages to President Truman saying the companies had agreed to a six-day strike stay and that they were ready to begin negotiations.

The wage policy committee fixed the new strike deadline at 12:01 a. m. October 1 and said any company would be struck then which not agreed to "mutually satisfactory agreements."

Miners Welfare Trustees Sued

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—A 54-year-old beneficiary of the coal miners welfare fund charged John L. Lewis and other trustees today with making illegal expenditures out of the $100,000,000-a-year fund.

The life-long coal miner, G. H. Livengood of Fayette County, Pa., asked the federal court here to remove Lewis and other two trustees and require them to give a full accounting.

"The reason I brought this suit," Livengood said in a statement, "was to get the racketeering out of the welfare and retirement fund and to protect the workers in the future from the uncontrolled administration of this fund."

Livengood also asked the court to take over supervision of the fund permanently and name new trustees answerable to the court.

The trustees whom he accused of "malfeasance in office" as trustees, are Lewis, Senator Bridges (R-NH) and Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland, Van Horn, who represents coal operators, submitted his resignation last week. Lewis is head of the United Mine Workers union. Bridges holds the designation of neutral trustee.

Lewis told newsmen at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.: "The suit is probably a part of the program of harassment of the fund by various coal interests and other opponents of welfare."

Two Seriously Hurt In Princeton Wreck

PRINCETON, Mo., Sept. 22—(AP)—One man was injured critically and a woman seriously hurt today in an accident involving a motor car and a road maintainer.

George Renfro, 64, who was operating the road machine, was injured critically. He was taken to a hospital here and later transferred to one at Des Moines. The full extent of his injuries were not determined.

Mrs. Maxine Hart, 20, a passenger, in the motor car, suffered a broken jaw and other injuries. Her husband, Clifford Hart, 27, escaped injury.

Sheriff Clay George quoted him as saying he did not see the road maintainer before he struck it from behind.

Union Official To Superiors About MoPac

"Some Progress" In Negotiations With MoPac Bus Drivers

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22—(AP)—R. E. Davidson, spokesman for four unions striking against the Missouri Pacific railroad, will confer with his superiors in Cleveland, O., over the week-end.

He said today the strike situation would be discussed and that the conference "may or may not be significant."

Davidson is assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Now In Fourteenth Day

The straggling strike now is in its 14th day. Negotiations have broken off and neither side seems to be in a hurry to resume them.

"The men are dug in for a good scrap," Davidson said. "I get wires of encouragement from them all the time."

On another front, more discussions were being held here in a dispute between company and union officials of the Missouri Pacific Transportation Co., a subsidiary of the MoPac railroad.

Some 350 of the utility's bus drivers have voted to strike unless they are granted wage increases. They are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, one of four unions striking against the MoPac.

The bus line and railroad serve much of the same general area. No date has been set for a walkout and the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service is trying to avert it.

Roy L. Burton, an official of the federal agency, said today that "some progress" has been made in two days of negotiations.

Noronic Captain Denies Drunkness

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22—(AP)—A pair of survivors of the Noronic ship holocaust presented sharply different views today on the condition of the captain during the blaze.

They testified at a hearing conducted by Coroner S. R. Gerber to derive information on the disaster from some of the many Clevelanders aboard.

One witness, C. R. Willson of Cleveland, told the hearing: "I'd swear he was so confounded drunk he should not have been on the ship." He admitted he "did not smell his breath" but saw two policemen supporting him on the dock during the fire.

From his hospital bed in Toronto, the captain, William Taylor, insisted this was false. The captain was burned during the fire.

Another witness at today's hearing said she saw Taylor at "about 1:10 or 1:15 a. m.," which would place it just about 15 minutes before the fire.

The woman, Miss Ann Marine Malone of Cleveland, said she saw the captain in the "social lobby of the ship."

"He bowed a greeting to us and walked up the steps very proudly," she said.

Then, when the fire was under way, she again saw the captain on what she recalled as "B" deck, she continued.

"Captain Taylor screamed frantically to the dock: 'Call the fire department,'" she continued. She said she then saw him run down the deck and turn into a door into the ship's interior.

Captain Taylor denied he was drunk when questioned in Toronto.

Daniel B. Tammany, Appoint Magistrate In St. Louis

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 22—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith appointed Daniel B. Tammany, 37, a Democrat, as magistrate of the eighth St. Louis district today. He succeeds the late W. T. O. Hart, a Republican.

Tammany, a former newspaperman, is an attorney for the Veterans' administration. He was in the Air Force during the war.

$200,000,000 For Missouri River Basin

Details Of Program For Development Are Unfolded At Meeting

POWELL, Wyo., Sept. 22—(AP)—Details of a $200,000,000 development program for the northwestern rim of the Missouri river basin were unfolded here today.

Bureau of reclamation officials outlined for the Missouri basin inter-agency committee their plans for bringing a quarter of a million more acres of land in northern Wyoming under irrigation.

The committee, headed by Chairman W. G. Sloan of Billings, Mont., opened a one-day session here. Chief work before the committee was a review of plans for further development of the area embracing the northwestern end of the vast Missouri basin.

Six Governors Attend

Four of six governors on the committee were present. They were Gov. A. G. Crane of Wyoming, Gov. Fred Aandahl of North Dakota, Gov. George Mickelson of South Dakota and Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska. The governors of Montana and Missouri had representatives at the meeting.

Ralph H. Workinger of Cody, Wyo., manager of the reclamation bureau's Big Horn district, said the $200,000,000 program would require 15 to 20 years. It would add 250,000 acres of irrigated land, furnish additional water for 85,000 acres under irrigation, and add 137,000 kilowatts to the area's generating capacity.

The area involved is now served by the Shoshone and Riverton projects and the multi-million dollar Boysen dam project in central Wyoming.

Attack Miller Statements

Committee members attacked statements made by former Governor Leslie A. Miller of Wyoming on development of the Missouri river basin.

Miller, a member of the national resources task force of the Hoover commission, in a recent magazine article assailed some of the planning for the Missouri basin.

Chairman Sloan declared Miller was not sufficiently informed about the basin and some of its projects.

Gov. Peterson also lashed out at Miller by declaring he was damaging the entire development of the basin with misinformation.

"The people of Wyoming should organize and fight back at the article and statements by former Governor Miller," Peterson said. "It is time to combat this sort of thing."

The committee will remain in Powell through Friday to attend a public drawing for 104 homestead units being opened on the Shoshone project. Governor Peterson will be one of the speakers at the drawing.

Senate Passes Arms Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—The Senate tonight approved a $1,314,010,000 program of arms aid for nations in the shadow of Russia's great military machine.

The vote was 55 to 24.

Final passage came after administration forces defeated two moves to cut down the size of the aid program. The most potent of these, an amendment by Senator George (D-Ga.) to trim $200,000,000 off the funds for Atlantic pact nations, lost 46-32.

This action set the United States firmly on a policy of re-arming friendly nations in the world-wide effort to bar the doors against Communist aggression.

In its final form the Senate bill authorizes arms aid totaling: $1,000,000,000 (B) for the North Atlantic pact nations in Europe, $211,370,000 (M) for Greece and Turkey.

$27,640,000 (M) for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

$75,000,000 (M) to be used in the China area at the discretion of the president.

The cash must yet be provided by appropriation.

The bill also permits sending $450,000,000 in surplus arms.

The final amount which Congress will authorize for military assistance overseas remains to be decided by a conference of Senate and House members.

The House approved an arms bill totalling $869,505,000 (M) or $444,505,000 (M) less than the Senate bill. Their differences will be worked out in conference.

Retail Credit Association To Meet

Prospective Fathers Justified In Speeding

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP)—Magistrate Morris Rothenberg ruled today prospective fathers are justified in speeding in a race with the stork.

He wrote off a charge against Burton M. Sloane, industrial designer, who edged out the stork in a race to the hospital—only to be slapped with a ticket for speeding.

Last Aug. 27, Sloane bundled his wife Mae, in his car and started on a mad dash to the hospital. Motorcycle Patrolman Francis McDermott stopped the speeding car on Riverside Drive.

Sloane explained the need for speed. So with siren wailing, McDermott escorted the harried father-to-be and his wife to the hospital.

There, the policeman hurried Mrs. Sloane inside—then hurried back out and handed Sloane the ticket.

Mrs. Sloane gave birth to a daughter, the couple's first child.

Taft Critical On Arms Aid Program

Might Incite Russia to War he Tells Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the Senate today that the $1,314,000,000 foreign arms program is likely to incite Russia to war.

Speaking as the Senate neared a vote on the historic measure, Taft declared:

"If Russia attacks western Europe we will be in war, and I think we should be."

The North Atlantic Alliance already has put Russia on notice of that, he said.

"But this is a program to substitute the rule of might for a program of law and justice," Taft continued. "We are asked to arm the teeth every nation in the world that may be opposed to Russia. It is fairly obvious that that is likely to incite Russia to war."

The Ohidn said no one thinks Russia is getting ready to invade western Europe.

"It's foolish to send arms if Russia isn't going to invade," he argued.

Building up western Europe's armed strength, he continued, may force the Russians to change their policy to one of attack.

"This program is more likely to lead to war than peace," he said. "It's the old armaments race all over again."

He added that in the past the arms races have always "led someone to go to war."

"I think it is likely to lead to war today."

Buchanan County Loses Cornerstone

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 22—(AP)—They hope to find the cornerstone of the Buchanan county courthouse before too long.

The courthouse was built in 1873 and for years no one worried over the location of the stone. Then two years ago the county court renovated the building. In the process they couldn't find the cornerstone to place an appropriate inscription on it. No one could find it for it apparently does not differ from the other stones.

Tapping failed to reveal any hollow stones.

Today electronic equipment arrived to help with the search. Similar to a wartime mine detector, the court hopes it will reveal the presence of the tin box placed in the stone at the time of the cornerstone laying ceremonies.

Publicity Committee on the Chest Campaign Meets

The Publicity Committee for the Community Chest Drive met at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce office with Mrs. Herbert Seifert, chairman, presiding.

All seven participating agencies were represented as follows: Girl Scouts by Miss Angles Quinn; Boy Scouts by Abe Silverman; Salvation Army by A. R. Rush; Teen Town by Jack Cunningham; Melita Day Nursery by Mrs. Pat Darnell; Negro Nursery by Mrs. Fredonia Kingsbury and Negro Teen Town by Mrs. Cleopatra Gooch and Mrs. Opal Draffen.

The speakers bureau will be in charge of the Rev. Warren Neal, who will have speakers from all the participating agencies and the speech department of Smith-Cotton high school. Service clubs and organizations are urged to call Mr. Neal or the Chamber of Commerce for speakers.

Articles on Agencies

Each agency will have an article on what its organization does with the Community Chest dollars it receives.

The slogan of "100 per cent coverage and 100 per cent giving" has been adopted by the Community Chest Drive committee for the drive which will be October 10 to 19.

Interest has run high in the chicken feathers that the young women of the Chamber of Commerce office started to dye red and people have offered assistance in various ways. Emory Bowman donated the red paint and the job is progressing nicely. They are about half through now, with the Nu Phi Mu Sorority giving them a hand but the girls in the C. of C. office are so sick of feathers that they wouldn't even want one on a hat, although the fashion trend this year is for feathers—but they hope that everybody in town will be wearing a feather in their hair from October 10 to 19—a nice bright red feather that signifies a contribution to the Community Chest.

Indict Howard Unruh Slayer Of Thirteen

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 22—(AP)—A grand jury today indicted Howard Unruh, slayer of 13 persons in a 15-minute massacre, on 13 separate charges of murder.

The jury also indicted the ex-Army artilleryman on three counts of assault with intent to kill. These charges concerned victims of the shooting who survived bullets from a German luger Unruh used in his slaughter on River Road Sept. 6.

The 26-year-old Bible-reading veteran is now in New Jersey state hospital for the insane at Trenton where he is undergoing extensive psychiatric treatment.

The outcome of these tests will determine whether Unruh is sane or insane. If judged sane, Cohen said he'd seek a first degree murder conviction with a demand for death in the electric chair.

Russia Directs 'Commies'

Such is Charge by Nationalists of China to UN

By The Associated Press

Nationalist China charged before the United Nations today that Russia is directing the Chinese Communists and urged support for the Nationalists to prevent Communism from engulfing the Far East.

The Nationalist spokesman, Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang, delivered his address in the general assembly 24 hours after the proclamation in Peking of the Communist "People's Republic of China."

As he spoke, on the other side of the world Chinese Communist forces moved on the big southwestern seaport of Amoy, and Nationalist forces yielded ground.

The Communists now govern more than half China's 457,000,000 people and control about half of the land surface.

There was speculation that the new republic, under leadership of Mao Tse-tung, will make a bid for U. N. membership following the anniversary of the Sun Yat-Sen revolution, October 10. It was expected that Soviet Russia or one of her satellites would sponsor such a move.

There was no indication that Dr. Tsiang would lodge a complaint against the new Red regime. Up until now the nationalists have maintained in the United Nations their problem is one of civil warfare—an internal matter.

To Consult Powers

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson spoke before the assembly yesterday. He did not mention China. He is committed to consult with other western powers before making any decision on American recognition of the Chinese Communist regime.

Washington observers said the western powers would eventually recognize Mao's government—unless the Communists raise extraordinary obstacles—but they will be in no hurry to do so.

The British cabinet met today to discuss ways of curbing prices under the new devaluation of the pound. Politicians of the left and right said the labor government is facing a crucial test in making its cheapened money policy work.

Congress Try For Speed-up

Expect to Adjourn Between Oct. 15 And November 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Democratic congressional leaders predicted today that congress between Oct. 15 and Nov. 1.

They announced after a conference with President Truman that they will get together early next week to try for agreement on how to expedite the bills they believe should pass before adjournment.

Vice President Barkley told reporters: "There is a longing in their hearts to get back into the hinterland. We ought to quit Oct. 15 or 20, but I am just guessing. It all depends on how much talking is done on some things."

House Speaker Rayburn would make no guess, but Senator Lucas of Illinois said "we ought to get out by Nov. 1. It might be Oct. 15 or a little later."

Clash at Bell Aircraft Plant

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22—(AP)—Unionists and non-strikers clashed at the strike-bound Bell Aircraft Corp. plant today. At least one person was hurt seriously.

It was the first outbreak of violence since the company and the CIO United Auto Workers union resumed negotiations Monday. The strike of the plant's 1,700 production workers began last June 13 and has been marked by several such incidents in recent weeks.

Undersheriff Arthur Muisner of Niagara county said the incident occurred when a bus load of non-strikers arrived at the main gate of the plant near Niagara Falls.

Symington Not Appear Before Navy Court

Secretary Matthews Countermands Orders Of Three Admirals

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—(AP)—Navy Secretary Matthews tonight countermanded a Navy court's demand that Air Secretary Symington appear in persons to tell what he knows of the B-36 bomber "smear" campaign.

Matthews stepped into the row after Symington gave a fast brush off to the request of a three-man board of admirals that he appear before the court. Matthews directed the admirals to make "no further effort" to get Symington to testify.

Order To Admiral Kinkaid

The civilian chief of the Navy sent the following directive to Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, president of the court:

"In my judgment, it would not best serve the purposes for which the court of inquiry was convened to require the Secretary of the Air Force to appear before your court against his will, especially in view of the memorandum he has submitted to your court dated 22 September 1949."

That was the memorandum in which Symington flatly informed the admirals he would not appear "at this time."

Symington said his refusal was based on two reasons:

1. By testifying before the Navy court, he might give the appearance of "entering into an interservice controversy."

2. He has already turned over most of the information he has on the B-36 row to the House armed services committee.

Not Disclose Report

Moreover, he said he has been "instructed" by the chairman of the House committee, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), not to disclose his report pending the outcome of the congressional committee's own investigation of the whole bitter dispute between the Navy and the Air Force.

The Inter-Service clash centers on their respective roles in carrying aerial attacks to the enemy in another war.

Cedric Worth, a Navy official, wrote a memo charging that the B-36 was obsolete and hinting that there had been political skulduggery by defense officials in connection with it. Circulated anonymously on Capitol Hill, the memo led to a congressional investigation which blew up when Worth took back most of his charges.

A Navy court was then named to look into the origins of the memo.

Youths Rob Race Horse Owner

CHICAGO, Sept. 22—(AP)—Three masked youths robbed John H. Kinard, 5, Bricey, Ark., race horse owner, of $2,260 and a diamond ring he valued at $7500 early today.

The holdup occurred at a west side garage as Kinard was getting into his automobile for an early trip to Hawthorne race track. Kinard said he often drives to the track to watch early morning workouts and that the youths have acquainted themselves with his schedule.

Police were told the three robbers entered the garage 15 minutes before Kinard arrived and held the attendant, Emmett Wilson, Negro, at gunpoint. Kinard is staying at a hotel near the garage.

Blackmer is Back to Face Six Charges

Indicted in 1928 By Federal Grand Jury at Denver

DENVER, Sept. 22—(AP)—This mountain city's fabulous "child of the gods"—80 year old Henry M. Blackmer—is expected home Sunday. After 25 years of luxurious self-imposed exile in Europe, he returns to face six federal charges of income tax evasion.

The multi-millionaire oil tycoon planned into Boston yesterday on a Trans-Atlantic airliner. After clearing customs, he was whisked away in an automobile. Denver friends said he would fly to Chicago and board a train for Denver, arriving Sunday. He is accompanied by his second wife, Elide Norena, Norwegian soprano.

Recalls Teapot Dome

His sudden return kindled the memories of the Harding administration's Teapot Dome scandal. Two of Blackmer's oil associates, Edward L. Doheny and Harry Sinclair, were involved.

Blackmer slipped away to Europe in 1924 rather than testify at a congressional inquiry into the Continental Trading company. He was a director. It was disclosed in a Cheyenne, Wyo., court that the company made $2,000,000 through a paper transaction by purchasing oil from one company and selling it to another. The profits were used to purchase Liberty bonds. Government detectives said some of the bonds were traced to Albert Fall, secretary of the interior in the Harding administration.

Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe of $100,000 from Doheny in the leasing of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, part of the Teapot Dome field. He was sentenced Nov. 1, 1929, to a year in prison and fined $100,000.

Social Events

A SLUMBER party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Boul, 820 West Third street, in honor of the fifteenth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Regina.

During the evening the guests, numbering six, attended the Fox theatre after which they returned to the Boul home where refreshments of ice cream and a birthday cake iced in pink, were served.

The party concluded with a breakfast Saturday morning.

At 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 11, in the Christian church in Knob Noster, Miss Eleanor Walker Grove, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gulf Walden Grove of Knob Noster, became the bride of Dr. Ralph Henry Rinne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rinne of Higginsville. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Theodore Jauck, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church in Higginsville.

The theme, "Autumn Lights," was carried out in the decorations. The altar was white and bronze chrysanthemums, huckleberry foliage and four candelabra with cathedral towers. Containers holding large white asters with lemon foliage and tied with white satin bows, were attached to the pews in the center aisles.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary V. Hogan of Knob Noster played "Dedication" and "Traumerei" by Chopin; "Clair de Lune" by Debussy; "Nocturne" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn. She accompanied Mr. William D. Covey, of Knob Noster, who sang "Ava Maria" by Schubert and "Because" by d'Hardelot. At the close of the ceremony, Mr. Covey sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte; played Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and as the recessional, Mendelssohn's Wedding March. During the ceremony she played "Liebestraum" by Liszt.

Candlelighters were Miss Wanda Goetz of Higginsville and Miss Lois Violet of Kansas City. Both wore pale yellow taffeta gowns and hair ornaments of lemon yellow anemone chrysanthemums and carried candles tied with white satin ribbon and huckleberry foliage.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, styled with a sheer yolk outlined with Belgium lace. The pointed basque bodice was styled with buttons down the back and long sleeves that tapered to a point over the wrist. The full gathered skirt which was worn over hoops, "lengthened into a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, was held in place by a French bonnet of matching ivory satin. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with lemon foliage and maline.

Miss Anna Walden Grove, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was hyacinth blue satin. The square neck was outlined with folds of the material and her full floor length skirt was worn over hoops. Her headress was of matching blue illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of blue tinted pompon chrysanthemums with lemon foliage and tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Anna Marie Rinne, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. Her gown was pink orchid satin and fashioned like that of the maid of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink-orchid pompon chrysanthemums with lemon foliage and tied with orchid satin ribbon. Her headress was of pink orchid illusion.

Mrs. Wilbert Rinne of Higginsville, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr. Marvin Rinne, another brother, also of Higginsville, was the groomsman. Mr. Burnett Rederek of Kansas City and Mr. Theophil Hauck of Higginsville served as ushers.

Mrs. Grove, mother of the bride, was attired in a two-tone plum crepe dress with hat of the same shade and a shoulder corsage of matching lavender crown asters. Mr. Rinne, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue crepe dress with matching hat and a corsage of peach pompon chrysanthemums.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bridal table was covered with a white satin damask cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white roses around, which was huckleberry foliage and white rose buds. White tapers were also used. On the buffet was a bouquet of marguerites. Mrs. Ivan Ruark of Green Castle, Ind., a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Milton Kendrick of Knob Noster, assisted in serving the cake, punch and minis.

Following the reception, the bridal couple left for Monterey, Calif. En route they will visit in Colorado. The bride chose for traveling a gray wool suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Knob Noster high school in 1942, from William School of Nursing in 1947. She worked for a year as a nurse at St. Mary's hospital and the past year was assistant to Dr. O. R. Withers, allergy specialist in Kansas City.

Meeting For Hunters And Fishermen

To Discuss Wildlife Problems And Plan For Reorganization

A meeting for hunters and fishermen will be held in the circuit court room of the court house at 7:30 Wednesday night, September 28, it was announced today by E. C. Wollet, president of the Pettis County Conservation Club.

The purpose of the meeting, Wollet said, will be to discuss some of the wildlife problems of this area, and to start a revival of the local club, which for several years has been inactive. Local sportsmen recently have pointed out the need for an active organization here to represent the county in state conservation affairs, and to see to it that Pettis county is not neglected in such matters as fish and game restocking, fishing lake development, and similar projects.

Callison To Be Here

Charles Callison of Boonville, executive secretary of the Conservation Federation of Missouri, will be here to discuss the activities and aims of the state organization and to explain how a Pettis county club can fit into the state picture. The federation is a state wide association of conservation clubs, presently composed of 63 active chapters. The Boonville Rod and Gun Club and the Saline County Conservation Club, for example, are federation chapters in neighboring counties.

Paul Shepard, Jr., new field secretary of the federation, also will be here. Shepard, a graduate in wildlife management at the University of Missouri, was employed during the past summer as ranger-naturalist at Crater Lake National Park, Oregon.

Wollet said arrangements are being made to show some interesting hunting and fishing movies at the meeting. William A. Stuesse, wildlife conservation agent for this district, and other officials of the State Conservation Commission, will be invited to attend.

Farmers, as well as Sedalia sportsmen, were urged to come to the meeting. One of the problems to be discussed, Wollet said, is the headache which farmers have in hunters who run across their lands without bothering to ask permission. Sportsman-farmer cooperation is one of the principal objectives of the state federation and its member clubs.

Rabbit Regulations
Another subject will be rabbit regulations. Some local hunters have blamed unrestricted hunting and live-trapping for the shortage of cotton tails in recent years. Also of specific local interest will be a report on the project through which Pettis, Cooper and Saline counties are cooperating to try to get a state fishing lake located and developed within the tri-county area.

"This is a meeting for all hunters and fishermen and anyone else interested in conservation," Wollet said. "Many farmers are also hunters and fishermen, and they should be in this club."

"Quail hunters, duck hunters, coon hunters, fox hunters, rabbit hunters, fly casters, bait casters, or just plain fishermen—all are invited to attend."

Price Conditions Not Healthy Sign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(P)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today middlemen are keeping food prices up either through inefficiency or profit grabbing and "the situation should be remedied."

Gillette, opened a Senate food price inquiry, said that commodity prices recently declined 20 per cent but wholesale prices dropped only 10 per cent and the consumer at retail got only a three per cent reduction. He quoted a federal reserve official.

This is not a healthy sign, he said, "and means either that processors and distributors are inefficient in their operations or are exacting an inordinate profit." He said their costs are "obviously out of line."

One big middleman—the National Dairy Products Corp.—told the senators that its net profit last year was only 2.57 per cent of sales.

It was the first company heard from after Gillette's statement opened an inquiry by a Senate agriculture subcommittee, of which he is chairman. The committee is looking into the reasons for the big difference in prices at the farm and over the counter.

President L. A. Van Bommel of National Dairy Products said his firm's 2.57 per cent margin was on sales totaling $986,000,000.

President Theodore G. Montague of the Borden company testified that the farmer's share of the Borden sales dollar in 1948 was 55.5 per cent, compared with 42 per cent nine years before.

Borden's 1948 net income, he said, was 2.95 per cent of sales. At the same time, he reported, 2,601 leading corporation earned 7.3 cents per dollar of sales.

He said his company "had to borrow $50,000,000 in the last three years to keep pace with rising prices and larger volume of business."

Negro Community Council Meeting

The Negro Community Council in its monthly meeting had the pleasure of Dr. Heber U. Hunt, Supt. of Public Schools, Sedalia, Missouri, as its guest speaker.

Dr. Hunt told of the growth of the Hubbard school, plans, and anticipations for the future Hubbard school. All of Dr. Hunt's remarks were timely and helpful to our club.

Two musical numbers were rendered. First a piano solo by Mr. William Jackson, a student at Lincoln university, and second a vocal solo by Miss Ruth McKenzie, a teacher at the Hubbard grade.

A round-table discussion followed with the president, Mr. Carl Abbott, presiding.

Must Return Slot Machines

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 22.—(P)—Holding that the state had failed to produce evidence to legally support its plea for an order to destroy 24 slot machines seized at three private clubs here August 22, Magistrate James B. Greer today ordered the machines, with jackpots intact, returned to the clubs.

Without waiting for Sheriff George Hickam to redeliver them to the clubs, the owners voluntarily offered to accept them on the spot as they stood arrayed around the courtroom, and speedily carted them away.

The four-hour trial before a packed courtroom was highlighted by an admission on the witness stand by Sheriff Hickam that he gave his deputies two illegal search warrants before they went to two of the clubs, and had no search warrant for the raid on the third. He said, however, he did not know the search warrants were illegal until after the raids had been made and the slots seized.

Hickam testified that the warrants were obtained by him several months ago for an entirely different purpose, and that his office deputy filled them out against the clubs over the affixed signature of Magistrate Greer and without any formal application or affidavit attached.

Boys' Birthday Not A Happy One

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—(P)—Donnie Neuman had a birthday today but it wasn't very happy. The nurses at St. Francis hospital did the best they could. They provided a birthday cake with 14 candles.

And the Sharpsburg-Etna-Aspinwall Rotary Club provided a $100 check—the start of a fund to pay off the mortgage on the Neuman home.

But it couldn't do much to cheer a boy who had one leg amputated, the other seriously damaged and both arms broken.

Self-sacrifice for his family indirectly led to Donnie's accident. He was pinned against a concrete wall in Millvale Tuesday by an auto which jumped the curb as he was on his way home from Washington trade school.

Donnie planned to go to West Deer High School but decided to go to Washington instead after his father's death last month. He hoped to get a job sooner so he could ease the family's financial plight.

There are four other children in the family and his mother is expecting another child.

Storm Threat On Gulf Coast

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 22.—(P)—The season's first tropical storm threat to the Texas Gulf coast appeared to be losing intensity today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau offered storm warnings down from Port O'Connor to Brownsville and that previous hurricane warnings from Port O'Connor to Freeport be changed to northeast storm warnings.

"The disturbance has not increased and strongest winds reported this morning were only 35 miles per hour," the 10 a. m. advisory reported.

Winds of 75 miles per hour are considered of hurricane strength. Winds of 60 miles per hour had been reported yesterday.

Small craft on the Louisiana and Texas coasts were warned to remain in port. Tides were predicted to be considerably above normal along the Louisiana coast.

Storm warnings continued to be displayed from Port O'Connor to Lake Charles, La.

Conspiracy Charge in Suit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(P)—The government today filed a civil action charging the Lorain (Ohio) Journal Co., and four of its officers with conspiracy to monopolize the spread of news, advertising and other information.

Attorney General McGrath announced the suit was filed in federal district court at Cleveland. He said it is the first case in which a newspaper has been charged with conspiring to injure a competing radio station.

The suite named as defendants, in addition to the company, these officers:

Samuel A. Horvitz of Cleveland, president, secretary and director of the Lorain Journal Co. Isadore Horvitz of Cleveland, president, treasurer and director of the company.

D. F. Self of Lorain, business manager of the Journal.

Frank Malloy of Lorain, editor of the Journal.

A Justice Department statement said the company and its officers are charged with acquiring ownership of their competitors and refusing to publish in the journal advertisements of business houses who advertise over radio stations in Lorain and Elyria, Ohio, or who advertise in the Lorain Sunday news, a newspaper published every Sunday.

They are accused also, the department said, of inducing publishers of the Elyria Chronicle-Telegram not to circulate their newspaper in Lorain.

The two cities are adjacent.

Nash Reduces Price on Autos

DETROIT, Sept. 22.—(P)—Nash Motors today announced price reductions ranging from $73 to $140. The reductions, apply to the company's new 1950 model cars which go on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow.

The cuts are possible, George W. Mason, president and board chairman of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. said, largely because of reduced production costs resulting from a freer flow of materials.

Mason said Nash plans to build almost twice as many cars during the remainder of the year as it produced during the same period last year.

In its 1950 line Nash has renamed its "600" model the "Statesman." This model is in the low medium price field. It's Ambassador model sells in the medium price bracket.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(P)—Daylight saving, the summer dividend of an extra hour of evening recreation for some 50,000,000 Americans, ends this Sunday.

As usual, daylight saving was observed in most of the north-eastern sector of the country this year and in several large cities of the middle east.

It was shunned in the south, and in most states of the middle west and far west.

Stranded—Five Floors up

Butchering schedules were delayed four hours at the Armour & Co. plant in St. Joseph, Mo., while employees pondered the problem of how to get this wild Brahman steer (arrow) from his perch on a narrow three-foot ledge five floors above the ground. The animal leaped a chute fence while enroute to a slaughtering room on the sixth floor. He finally was shot and his carcass lowered to the ground. (Associated Press Photo)

RED THREAT?—Residents of Piedmont, Calif., were startled to see floating lazily overhead a giant balloon bearing a bright red hammer-and-sickle insignia. Closer investigation by local police revealed the balloon was of a type that takes a limited ride on a liberal shot of hot air. Police also noted that the airborne mystery came from the direction of the University of California campus.

ALPINE CLIMBERS? NOPE—Except for their hard hats and jackhammers, these men working high on the sheer rock face of a canyon wall might be mistaken for mountain climbers. But the scene is Hungry Horse, Mont., site of what will soon become the world's fourth largest concrete dam, across the Flathead River. These jackhammermen are drilling holes to prepare for blasting the canyon wall down to the solid bedrock that will support the dam. So steep is the wall that two men are required on each jackhammer.

Three Held on Bogus Check Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—(P)—Three Oklahoma City men are being held on charges of causing a bogus $25,000 check to be transported in interstate commerce.

D. A. Bryce, agent in charge of the FBI here, said Harold E. Byford, Oklahoma City bootlegger, and M. B. Clapp, owner of the Oklahoma dental laboratories here, were arrested on federal warrants issued yesterday.

Byford was arrested in Shreveport, La., by FBI agents and Shreveport police. Bryce said he was held in the Caddo parish jail in default of $20,000 bond after his arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Alfred W. Bullock.

Tokyo Rose Trial In Last Stages

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(P)—The long and often monotonous Tokyo Rose treason trial is in its final stages. The government is scheduled to present its closing argument today.

Eight overt acts of treason are charged to Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino while the 33-year-old Los Angeles-born Japanese was a wartime broadcaster in Japan.

The defense fought yesterday to show that the taunting remarks recalled by ex-service men who testified at the trial could not have been made by the defendant.

Bald and scholarly George Olshausen told the jury that not a single one of those remarks had been substantiated by the government-monitored broadcasts of the "zero hour."

Olshausen said the United States monitored the broadcasts in Hawaii and Oregon for 16 months. Yet, he added, not a word introduced from such monitoring showed any treasonable statements in the program.

Olshausen pictured Iva Toguri as pro-American.

To Ask Others Continue Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(P)—Rep. Jacobs (D-Ind.) said today a house labor committee investigation of trade union practices was called off because of "heat" brought by the International Pressmen union on Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.).

Jacobs was chairman of an investigating committee. Lesinski, as chairman of the full committee, abolished it and other subcommittees last month.

One subject of the subcommittee's inquiry into union democracy was the tangled financial affairs of the late George Berry, president of the AFL Pressmen's Union.

"Heat was put on by the pressmen's union to dissolve the subcommittee, and Lesinski couldn't stand the heat," Jacobs told a reporter.

Lesinski said yesterday it was necessary to end the activities of Jacobs' subcommittee because a request for an additional $42,000 financing was unfavorably received by the house administration committee.

To this, Jacobs retorted: "He (Lesinski) is practicing rank deception when he says that. The house administration committee did not vote on the resolution for the $42,000, although I understand one expressed himself against it to me."

Jacobs said he will ask the house to appoint a select committee, independent of the labor committee, to carry on the inquiry his subcommittee has started.

There are a number of things demanding congressional study, Jacobs said. He named one as the question of democracy in the maritime unions, and another as the question of Communist control of one or more of the big unions.

RELIGIOUS REMARKABLES - - - By Scheel

Happiness In God

The Christian religion teaches that man was created for true and lasting happiness. It stresses, however, that this happiness is not to be sought entirely on earth, but in heaven, where those who have been faithful to God will be united with Him in eternal glory.

The promise of ultimate salvation and happiness has given courage and strength to countless millions throughout the centuries whose lives have been burdened with sorrow, poverty, illness or pain. Indeed, without that comforting assurance existence on earth would be unbearable to many.

To human beings generally, the promise of final happiness is an incentive not only to keep the divine law, but to live lives of positive good. The belief that God's faithful will surely be blessed forever explains why Dr. Albert Schweitzer, one of the world's leading Protestant missionaries, gave up what promised to be a brilliant career in the world in order to become a doctor to Negroes in French Equatorial Africa. Like Dr. Schweitzer, many saintly and spiritually-wise men and women have turned their backs on the world to serve God in noble and heroic ways.

These magnanimous souls know that no service can ever be more rewarding than that done in the name of God. They realize that any hardship or suffering involved in such service is as nothing compared with the infinite joy in store for them. Nor are they denied, even in this life, the consolation that comes from living close to the Master they love.

There is always this truth to ponder: that the more we give to God, the happier we will be on earth. This is not difficult to understand. The highest human happiness is based on peace of soul, which, in turn, comes from surrender to God.

No burden or pain can crush the spirit of contentment, trust and love which is the badge of those who have come to the knowledge that God is the source of all good.

Ancient Psalms Inspire Modern Hymns

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.

Christianity, like the Judaism out of which it came, is a singing religion.

How do its Christian hymns compare with the Psalms, which were the great outpouring of Jewish praise to God?

Many of the Christian hymns are paraphrased versions of the Psalms, or chants of unparaphrased Psalms. Some Christians, notably among some Scotch Presbyterians, have confined their singing to the Psalms. But Christian hymns and songs are almost endless in number, and as varied in their themes, emotions, and expressions as the Psalms themselves.

In that multiplicity and variety there are vast differences in the quality of expression, and the religion they express. Nearest to the Psalms are ancient and stately hymns of the church, which like the good news of the Gospel, are ever new. Such are, "All Glory, Laud, and Honor to Thee, Redeemer, King," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The Day Is Past and Over," and the Crusaders' Hymn, "Fair Lord Jesus," to name a few of these ancient hymns.

Some hymns, widely sung, are little more than the rhythmic expression of doctrines very limited, and of doubtful validity in the deep range of Christian truth. At the opposite pole are the hymns and songs of shallow sentiment, with no depth of sincerity, jingles that have no relation to great doctrines and truth.

What value, if any, attaches to these racy and tuneful songs, that too often, and among some groups, almost entirely have displaced the great hymns of the church?

They represent in the field of religion the sort of sentimental songs that in the secular field are typical of the music hall and the radio. They are not to be entirely condemned. They appeal to those who lack the power to appreciate richer and finer things, but for whom they nevertheless express a measure of faith and sincerity.

It is unfortunate, however, when they attain to chief, or exclusive, use. The greatest of modern hymns, and many recent hymns do seem to me to be of high quality, are greatest when they are most like the Psalms. A hymn like Oliver Wendell Holmes' "Lord of All Being, Throned Afar," has the Psalm-like appreciation of God in His world.

The Psalms were often expressions of personal moods and experiences, significant because these moods and experiences found so deep a response in the souls of others. Greatest of similar Christian hymns is, I think, Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light." But richest and best of Christian hymns are those which sound the depths of love and grace, such hymns as Charles Wesley's "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," and one that is among the richest and best of all, the hymn of the blind George Matheson, "O Love, That Will Not Let Me Go." These sound the note of something higher and deeper than man's love to man, or man's love to God—the Love of God, which is the Source of all Love.

HEADLINES BY THE POUND: AND MORE TO COME? Britain's devaluation of the pound sterling, which had world-wide repercussions, in a rush of large-type headlines. The situation, under which the value of the pound was cut from $4.03 to $2.80, may produce even more startling headlines concerning Britain's Labor Party. The Labor government, threatened by open revolt among workers and challenged by the opposition to debate the pound devaluation, prepares for what may be a fight for its life. As the Labor government took hasty steps to convene Parliament, the British Trades Union Congress, representing 8,000,000 Laborites, withheld its support of the devaluation policy.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round
Phil Murray And Steel Executives Strain Old Friendships

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 — Phil Murray, head of the CIO, and Ben Fairless, head of U. S. Steel, are both old friends and old sparring partners. They have sat through many difficult wage negotiations together and hitherto have always come to an agreement. This time it was apparent from almost the start of the strike negotiations that both men had their backs up.

When Murray arrived for the first meeting with federal mediator Cyrus Ching, Fairless greeted him like a long-lost brother.

"Hello, Phil. I haven't seen you in a long time. You're looking very well."

Fairless didn't say so, but the real reason he hadn't seen Murray was because Fairless' boss, Enders Voohees, the real dictator of U. S. Steel wasn't anxious to have Fairless attend meetings of the fact-finding board. He was afraid Fairless wouldn't be tough enough.

"I've been missing your telegrams lately, Phil," added Fairless. And there was a little sarcasm in his voice this time, as he referred to Murray's tough telegraphic ultimatum that U. S. Steel would have to negotiate on the basis of the president's fact-finding board recommendations. "We haven't had many telegrams in the last few days."

"Well, you may get another before the day is over," replied Murray.

U. S. Steel's Position

John Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel in charge of labor relations, did much of the talking for the steel executives. For many years Stephens has been quite friendly with Murray and leaders of the steelworkers union, but lately relations have been strained.

Stephens charges that Murray agreed last year not to raise the issue of increased wages this year. Murray in turn is indignant over the fact that the rooms in which negotiations were held on a previous occasion were wired with hidden microphones and now steel executives allude to statements which were secretly recorded.

As negotiations opened this week, Stephens bluntly informed Mediator Ching and Phil Murray that the ten-cent-an-hour increase for pensions and social-security benefits recommended by the White House fact finding board was out of the question.

Stephens reiterated that the company was prepared to offer four cents an hour toward workmen's pensions — provided the steelworkers themselves contributed an additional two cents — but would go no further. Noncontributory pensions borne entirely by management were too great a tax on industry and eventually on the consuming public, the steel spokesman declared.

"You never know where they're going to stop," said Stephens. "The coal industry has had a bitter experience along this line with John L. Lewis. Lewis started demanding and getting five-cents-a-ton royalty for the miners' welfare fund."

"Then he got 10 cents, then 20 cents and now he is reported to be demanding 40 cents from the coal operators."

Ching replied that he could not understand this reasoning. The fact-finding proposal for 10 cents was fair to both sides and had been made after a thorough study by conscientious men who were thinking of the national interest.

Russia Watches Steel Crisis

"But this is more than a national issue," Ching emphasized. "It has very serious international implications. A steel strike at this time would be disastrous, not only to our own economy, but to the program we have undertaken to insure world peace."

"You all know what has happened in Britain and we cannot afford to allow anything to happen to our own economy if we are to continue to help others to ward off the threat of Communism. A steel strike at this time would be the greatest boon we could give to Russia."

Ching's top assistant, William Margolis, broke in with the observation: "Yes, the reporters for Pravda will be having a wonderful time the next few weeks if our steel plants close down."

At one point Murray unleashed a caustic blast — which almost equaled John L. Lewis' sarcasm — against U. S. Steel's publicity campaign. He reminded Fairless that U. S. Steel had spent several hundred thousand dollars on advertising in the morning papers and wanted to know what he meant by dissipating the assets of his corporation in such a wanton manner.

"It would have been far better to use the money to pay pensions," chided Murray, "rather than pull the wool over the public's eyes."

Mellons Give Orders

Murray also criticized Adm. Ben Moreell, former chief of navy supply, now head of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, and hitherto friendly toward the steelworkers. Moreell had appeared ready to accept the fact-finding board's recommendations, but, just before the negotiations began, Moreell was reported to have received instructions from the Mellon interests in Pittsburgh, who control Jones and Laughlin, to backtrack. Murray, therefore, accused Mo-reel of vacillating, not being a free man, and he quoted statements by the admiral indicating his earlier willingness to accept.

Murray asked Moreell point blank why he didn't accept the fact-finding recommendations.

The admiral, who had a fine war record, claimed Murray had not quoted him correctly.

After these fireworks, Mediator Ching decided that separate meetings might be more conducive to harmony and went into a series of huddles — first with union leaders, then with the steel executives. They got nowhere. But the negotiations made one point reasonably clear: The steel industry had decided that any settlement must come under the Taft-Hartley act, and that to bring this about the industry was quite willing to accept a strike.

Kansas City Seethes

Over Democratic Dinner

Kansas City has become a little calloused to having home-town boys make good and doesn't pay as much attention as formerly to the home-town boy in the White House. But the freshness has not yet worn off the glitter of the new post held by William M. Boyle, Jr., recently promoted to be chairman of the Democratic national committee — where, incidentally, he is doing an A-1 job. So Kansas City is preparing to honor Boyle at a big dinner on Sept. 29.

But Kansas City, which never does anything half-way, is now seething politically over the fact that Republicans were on the verge of taking over the dinner for the new Democratic national chairman, with down-to-earth Democrats, who really rolled up the votes on election day, being left out in the cold. Here's how it all happened.

Ray Edlund, Democratic chairman of the Kansas City election board, who is the guiding genius behind the Boyle dinner, appointed J. Guy Robertson as chairman of general arrangements. Robertson, manager of Royal Crown Cola bottlers and not a working Democrat, immediately roped in the silk-stocking boys and his friends of the wealthy Saddle and Sirloin club.

Among others, Robertson named James J. Rick, vice president of the Union National bank, who heartily disagrees with most Truman politics, to handle the burning question of seating important bigwigs at the dinner. And this is not a job which a good Democrat likes to have handled by a Republican.

On top of all this, it was suddenly discovered that Edlund and Robertson were planning to give the freeze to the powerful Binaggio-Clark-McKissick faction from old town, or Kansas City's north end. This is the triumvirate which really counts the votes election day — or, according to some Republicans, doesn't count 'em.

At any rate, Binaggio, a former lieutenant for John Lazia, overlord of Kansas City's underworld in the lush days of Boss Tom Fendegast, now is one of the political powers in the state. A dapper little Italian, he runs the Democratic show in western Missouri and is a close friend of Bill Boyle, the honor guest.

On top of this freeze-out, it was also discovered that Tom Evans, former president of the Crown Drug Co., and probably Truman's closest friend in Kansas City, was excluded from the arrangements by the silk stocking boys.

When all this was brought home to Ray Edlund, instigator of the dinner, he was frank and forthright.

"I made a helluva mistake," he said and then proceeded to save face with the Democratic party. He notified Robertson that every Democratic faction must be in on the dinner and also took away banker Jim Rick's power to seat dinner guests.

There are still some sour tempers and red faces in Kansas City, but things are looking better for Democratic harmony, and a big time will be had when Bill Boyle comes back to the home town next week.

Gunning for 5 Percent

A new book coming out on John L. Lewis notes that back in 1937 the United Mine Workers chieftain accounted for 4.2 per cent of all news space in major American dailies.

Nowadays when Lewis stirs up a new fuss in the coal industry, as he's doing at the moment, you can't be sure whether he's deeply aroused or just trying for a new record in column-inches.

To Remember Hubby's Rights Will Help Keep His Affection

There is no better way to make sure your husband likes, as well as loves you, than by remembering his "rights" as well as your own.

He has a right to some privacy. That means you shouldn't make a habit of asking, "Who was that on the telephone?", "Why are you half an hour late?", "What were you and so-and-so talking about?"

He has a right to some relaxation at home. That means you haven't the right to think up an odd job for him to do every time he settles down in his favorite chair or to cook up so much social life that any night you don't go out, you have people in.

He has a right to his ideas of how the children should be brought up. That means you haven't the right to veto any suggestion he makes just because you think you understand the children better than he does.

Right to Criticize

He has a right to be critical occasionally. That means you can't expect him to approve of everything you do.

He has a right to his own friends, whether they particularly appeal to you or not. That means you haven't the right to do all the deciding about which people you will see and which ones you won't bother with.

He has a right to do as he pleases in his own house. That means you haven't the right to nag him if he likes to put his feet on the davenport, spread the Sunday paper on the living-room floor, etc.

He has a right to be the head of the house. That means you haven't the right to interfere when he is disciplining the children, or to make him look foolish in front of your friends, or to give outsiders the impression that he is just another hen-pecker husband.

Untreated Hemorrhoids Will Cause Increase in Suffering

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D. Written for NEA Service

The most common first sign of piles or hemorrhoids is bleeding. Generally there is no severe pain, though itching is frequent. If such warning signals are ignored, the bleeding is likely not only to keep on but will get worse. Sometimes hemorrhoids develop suddenly after some strain, but more often they set in gradually.

Hemorrhoids are clusters of enlarged veins at or around the outlet of the rectum. They may be internal or external. Chronic constipation, a long continued cough, childbirth, and muscular strain from work are examples of what will tend to slow down the flow of blood through the hemorrhoidal veins and favor their enlargement in the form of piles or hemorrhoids.

The treatment of piles includes avoidance of those causes which tend to make them worse, namely, such things as chronic constipation, or unnecessary muscular strain. Once hemorrhoids have developed, however, this is not enough to make the veins return to their natural state. Other things have to be done.

Surgery Often Used

When the veins are entirely internal and do not protrude, they can sometimes be treated by injection of a chemical. This treatment, however, is not favored to any great extent and has some drawbacks. More often, whether the enlarged veins are internal, external, or both, the best treatment is by surgery. The enlarged veins are cut out.

Hemorrhoids are extremely common. Just why this should be so is not known. Perhaps it has something to do with our upright posture or the sedentary life which so many people lead today and which favors the stagnation of blood.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE STORY: Tod Duncan's fiancée, Liz Conover, has eloped with another man. Jenny Polaskas, an old friend of Tod's who has a crush on him, tries to tell him his self-confidence. Tod tells Jenny that Liz's father had offered him a job. In spite of the fact that Liz married someone else, but Tod turned it down. Then one day Tod goes on a picnic with Jenny and proposes. Jenny asks him if he has turned to her because of Liz. Tod says it is not "for the rebound," and begs her to accept.

"YES, Tod." Her voice was a husky whisper. "I'll marry you."

A strange gasp caught them now. They tumbled things into the picnic basket better skelter.

"We'll get our blood tests tomorrow," Tod said. "I'll pick you up during your lunch hour."

Jenny nodded, her eyes lambent.

"I'll see about the license, Jenny, and then, let's see, the three-day wait would make it Thursday. Would Thursday be the day for you?"

"Thursday will be wonderful, Tod. Oh darling, I'm so incredibly happy!"

Tod had a crazy idea they ought to go somewhere and celebrate their engagement, but Jenny wanted to go home. She had so many things to do.

Jenny had picked up the Sunday morning paper from the porch and brought it into the house with her and, as she thumbed idly through it after Tod had left, her attention was caught by a large picture in the society section. It was a shipboard pose of Liz and Jim Courtney. Liz, as usual, looked sophisticated and charming.

"Mr. and Mrs. James B. Courtney, III, whose surprise elopement took place in March, will return next week to their new home in Shawnee Place."

WHAT Jenny did not know was that Tod had seen the picture of Liz. All day long he had been

Liz, but he was sure they could be happy together.

His mother and Harriet and Joe would not be pleased, because they used to think the Polaskas, Pop and the motherless Jenny, were high and mighty acting in the old days when the two families lived in the same neighborhood.

Ma used to disapprove of his being at the Polaskas so much. She had been pleased when he quit seeing Jenny altogether. Ma had always bragged about him when he was in college, and she had worked hard and deprived Joe and Harriet of things to send him extra money. They'd kept a scrapbook of clippings from the sports pages and showed it to everyone they knew. When he became engaged to Liz Conover, Ma had been half hysterical with joy.

MONDAY evening he came home to find Ma all up in the air.

"Tod, Mr. Conover phoned you. He wants a definite answer about the job he offered you. You're goin' to take it, ain't you, hon?" Her voice was shrill with urgency. "Besides there's always the chance that Liz—"

"Look, Ma, I've got a job, and I've got other plans, too."

"What plans, son? Why do you be so stubborn when somebody tries to be nice to you?"

There was a lot more. Ma even cried. She made him so mad he almost blurted it out that he was going to marry Jenny, but he didn't. He just smoothed things over and jollied Ma up the best he could. And he was sure now it was best not to tell her.

He lay awake a long time that night, torturing himself with conflicting thoughts about Jenny and Liz and the job with the Conover Agency; how he would get through that last year of college; how horrible it would be if he made a mistake marrying Jenny, hurting her. He must never hurt Jenny.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23—(P)—Donnie Neuman had a birthday Thursday but it wasn't happy. The nurses at St. Francis hospital did the best they could. They provided a birthday cake with 14 candles.

And the Sharpsburg-Etna-Aspinwall Rotary Club provided a $100 check—the start of a fund to pay off the mortgage on the Neuman home.

But it couldn't do much to cheer a boy who had one leg amputated, the other seriously damaged and both arms broken.

Self-sacrifice for his family indirectly led to Donnie's accident. He was pinned against a concrete wall in Millvale Tuesday by an auto which jumped the curb as he was on his way home from Washington trade school.

Donnie planned to go to West Deer High School but decided to go to Washington instead after his father's death last month. He hoped to get a job sooner so he could ease the family's financial plight.

There are four other children in the family and his mother is expecting another child.

Daniel B. Tammany, Appoint Magistrate in St. Louis

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 23—(P)—Gov. Forrest Smith appointed Daniel B. Tammany, 37, a Democrat, as magistrate of the eighth St. Louis district. He succeeds the late W. T. O. Hart, a Republican.

Tammany, a former newspaperman, is an attorney for the Veterans' administration. He was in the Air Force during the war.

Buchanan County Loses Cornerstone

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 23—(P)—They hope to find the cornerstone of the Buchanan county courthouse before too long.

The courthouse was built in 1873 and for years no one worried over the location of the stone. Then two years ago the county court renovated the building. In the process they couldn't find the cornerstone to place an appropriate inscription on it. No one could find it for it apparently does not differ from the other stones.

Tapping failed to reveal any hollow stones. Today electronic equipment arrived to help with the search. Similar to a wartime mine detector, the court hopes it will reveal the presence of the tin box placed in the stone at the time of the cornerstone laying ceremonies.

Negro Community Council Meeting

The Negro Community Council in its monthly meeting had the pleasure of Dr. Heber U. Hunt, Supt., of Public Schools, Sedalia, Missouri, as its guest speaker.

Dr. Hunt told of the growth of the Hubbard school, plans, and anticipations for the future Hubbard school. All of Dr. Hunt's remarks were timely and helpful to our club.

Two musical numbers were rendered. First a piano solo by Mr. William Jackson, a student at Lincoln university, and second a vocal solo by Miss Ruth McKenzie, a teacher at the Hubbard grade.

A round-table discussion followed with the president, Mr. Carl Abbott, presiding.

Noronic Captain Denies Drunkeness

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23—(P)—A pair of survivors of the Noronic ship holocaust presented sharply different views on the condition of the captain during the blaze.

They testified at a hearing conducted by Coroner S. R. Gerber to derive information on the disaster from some of the many Clevelanders aboard.

One witness, C. R. Willson of Cleveland, told the hearing:

"I'd swear he was so confounded drunk he should not have been on the ship." He admitted he "did not smell his breath" but saw two policemen supporting him on the dock during the fire.

From his hospital bed in Toronto, the captain, William Taylor, insisted this was false. The captain was burned during the fire.

Another witness at today's hearing said she saw Taylor at "about 1:10 or 1:15 a. m.," which would place it just about 15 minutes before the fire.

The woman, Miss Ann Marine Malone of Cleveland, said she saw the captain in the "social lobby of the ship."

"He bowed a greeting to us and walked up the steps very proudly," she said.

Then, when the fire was under way, she again saw the captain

on what she recalled as "B" deck, she continued.

"Captain Taylor screamed frantically to the dock: 'Call the fire department,'" she continued. She said she then saw him run down the deck and turn into a door into the ship's interior.

Captain Taylor denied he was drunk when questioned in Toronto.

Course Given By Dr. Batson

Former Sedalia To Present it at Kansas City

Mrs. J. P. Batson, 422 East Fifth street, will go to Kansas City Saturday, where she will spend the day with her son, Dr. Oscar V. Batson, University of Pennsylvania specialist, who is giving a three day refresher course at the General Hospital auditorium in Kansas City. The course started Thursday.

Dr. Batson, a former Sedalian, always makes it a point to come home for a visit with his mother if he gets to the state of Missouri, but this time the Missouri Pacific railroad strike prevented him from making the trip so his mother is going there to see him and will be his dinner guest on Saturday.

The Kansas City Star stated Thursday night that the Kansas City Anatomical society anticipated with liveliness the three day refresher by Dr. Batson.

It said of him: "If a point in the study of human anatomy can be determined with a joke, an act, an X-ray, or a music record, Dr. Oscar V. Batson, the actor-anatomist, does it that way."

"In fact, the rote and intricacies of anatomy taught in dull dissecting fashion don't interest Dr. Batson any more than do the nodding medical student, who, incidentally, is a rarity in his classes at the University of Pennsylvania's graduate school of medicine."

"Dr. Batson's appearance benefits his personality, his doctor friends agree. He's a huge man with large features—large head, eyes, ears, and flying shock of hair combed with a swipe of the hand. There is a loose but electric air about him. His clothes don't hold a press, his white shirt wrinkles and the small black string tie in a bow knot is usually just a bit askew."

"Dr. Batson loves to talk, and ideas pop fast from his nimble brain, seizing always the chance to illustrate with a story. He can mimic the Irish, the Scotch and the Swedes of which he is one by descent. If you inquire, he'll admit his grandfather claimed to be a sailor at 7 years old on Northern Swedish waters, and his father, the late John P. Batson, was a talkative grocer in Sedalia, Mo., for many years. His mother lives there now."

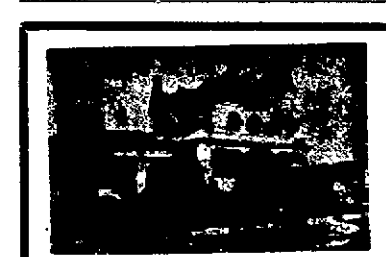

Dr. Batson was the guest speaker at the Jackson County Medical Society meeting Thursday night in Kansas City.

She was taken by the Ewing's ambulance to the Bothwell hospital where she was examined and x-rayed but no bones were found to be broken. She returned to her home this afternoon.

Evidence Russia Has At Last Learned to Make Atomic Bomb

States and the prime ministers of the United Kingdom and of Canada, dated November 15, 1945, it was emphasized that no single nation could in fact have a monopoly of atomic weapons.

"This recent development emphasizes once again, if indeed such emphasis were needed, the necessity for that truly effective enforceable international control of atomic energy which this government and the large majority of the members of the United Nations support."

(End text.)

Cabinet Fully Informed

Reporters crowded about Secretary of Defense Johnson as he left. "Have we made any change in the disposition of our forces since this happened?" a reporter asked.

"No," Johnson replied. "Does the cabinet know any more about this than is contained in the cabinet's statement?" "The cabinet knows all about it," Johnson said. "It was fully informed."

The president's disclosure came at a time when British, Canadian and American experts are discussing problems of the interchange of atomic information and the supply of uranium available to them.

Uranium is the key element in making atomic bombs.

The most recent official estimate of when Russia might be able to produce atomic weapons came from President Truman's Air Policy Commission.

That group, headed by Thomas K. Finletter, reported on December 30, 1947, "It would be safe to assume x x x that possibly hostile powers will not be producing atomic weapons in substantial quantities before the end of 1952."

The commission added: "We point out that this does not assume that such powers may not have a few atomic weapons prior to that date."

Last March 22 Dr. David Bradley, atomic medical scientist, said Russia not only has the atomic bomb secret but "may already be manufacturing atomic weapons."

Refers To Delusion

Bradley, author of the book "No Place To Hide," a report on the 1948 Bikini atomic tests, said the belief that the United States has a monopoly of atomic knowledge is one of the "four fatal delusions" which leave Americans unready for a possible atomic war.

Bradley listed the "four delusions" as:

1. "The myth of the 'secret'—the idea that we possess and can keep the secret of making atomic bombs."

2. The delusion of "industrial know-how."

"This is at best a very temporary advantage. Anyone who can make (an atomic) pile can make plutonium. An industrialized Russia, aided by captured German scientists, may already be manufacturing atomic weapons."

3. The delusion that atomic weapons are absolute weapons. "They are not. They have clear limitations and obvious strategic and tactical uses."

4. "The last equally absurd, equally dangerous delusion is the current effort to play down the bomb—that atomic weapons are really of no great account."

Bradley was addressing the U. S. Conference of Mayors here.

Discover New Mass Grave

DACHAU, Germany, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A new unmarked mass grave jammed with the skeletons of about 4,000 victims of the notorious Dachau concentration camp has been discovered here, it was announced today.

The burial pit was found by a mixed American-German commission investigating the desecration of another burial ground by a building contractor.

Dr. Phillip Auerbach, Bavarian government member of the commission, said the grave was being sealed off by police and an investigation would be conducted to determine why the grave was not marked.

Auerbach said identification of the skeletons would be impossible.

Have Week of Compensation Due at Present

day. R. J. Martin, express agent, said: "Our services continue over M-K-T and all traffic moving through the St. Louis gateway is being moved to Sedalia in a set-out car on Katy 5, and is loaded with outboard traffic which moves on Katy 6 to St. Louis."

Mr. Martin said the express from the east is not delayed in delivery; however, the west bound traffic both in and out has to move via Parsons, Kas., and is subject to slight delay.

Delivery of Mail

Postmaster Edward P. Mullahey said this morning that the mail situation was still being handled in the same way as when the strike started, September 9. Much of the mail is sent over the M-K-T railroad. Mail between Kansas City and Sedalia and between Jefferson City and Sedalia, and the branch line to Higginsville is being handled by trucks.

An agent at the Missouri Pacific bus depot in Sedalia, said the buses were still running, and passenger business has picked up; however, the buses are not overcrowded.

Until September 18, 75 local members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railroad Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen met twice daily at their headquarters established at 103 1/2 West Main street. Since the 18th, members have been meeting only at 10:00. Starting Saturday morning, the headquarters will be at 114 1/2 East Fifth street.

The first afternoon of the strike, the four Brotherhoods met and elected officers. B. A. Fisher was elected as strike chairman and Harry Frey, secretary. At various times during their meetings, talks would be given by various members, and others who explained how to fill out unemployment compensation applications. This morning, members gathered at the headquarters to fill out their second week of unemployment compensation. The meeting was opened with a prayer given by Rector Warren E. Botkin of the Calvary Episcopal church.

Thursday the meeting was opened in prayer by Rev. Warren Bessmer.

This morning, a letter of consolation was signed by secretary Harry Frey for the four striking Brotherhoods, which was sent to Mrs. Conrad W. Michaelis, whose husband was a machine foreman at the shops and was killed in an airplane crash, south of Dresden, Monday.

Senate Votes Its Approval On Arms Aid

North Atlantic Pact nations. Half would be in cash and half in contract authority.

$211,370,000 for Greece and Turkey.

$27,640,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

And $75,000,000 for the China area to be spent at the discretion of the President.

Part of these funds would be used to process and ship $450,000,000 worth of surplus U. S. military equipment overseas. The value of this equipment is in addition to the total arms aid. The House made all its reductions in the sum for western Europe. It provided nothing for China but its figures were the same as the Senate's for the other countries.

The ballots showed a shift among senators in their voting as compared with the 82 to 13 approval given the North Atlantic Pact.

Senators who voted for the pact but against the arms aid included Republican Senator Schoeppel of Kansas.

Two senators who voted against the pact switched over to support arms program. They were Republicans Donnell of Missouri and Flanders of Vermont.

Seasonal in the Arrival of Autumn

By The Associated Press
Summer ended and autumn began today with generally seasonal weather across the nation.

Skies were fair in central and western states, and cloudy in the east and in the Great Lakes region.

It was rather cool from the northern plains eastward to the Great Lakes, but elsewhere temperatures generally were normal.

Storm warnings hoisted Thursday on the Texas-Louisiana coast were down today. Gulf of Mexico squalls brought a threat of high tides to the Louisiana coast.

Vishinsky Proposes Five Powers Form Peace Pact

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky called on the Big Five powers today to conclude a peace pact among themselves.

He made no mention of an atomic explosion in the Soviet Union in his general policy address to the United Nations assembly.

Vishinsky prefaced his peace proposal with his usual slashing attack on the western powers.

He charged the United States and Britain are leading plans for an aggressive war.

Then he introduced a formal resolution by which the assembly would express the desire for Russia, the United States, Britain, China and France to conclude a peace pact among themselves.

Vishinsky said not a word about President Truman's announcement in Washington that there is evidence of an atomic explosion in the Soviet Union.

He also took no notice of a declaration by Secretary of State Dean Acheson that the United States had expected such an atomic development and had no plans to change policy because of it. Acheson held a news conference just before Vishinsky spoke.

The Vishinsky speech was far less fiery than his "war-monger" speech.

Postal Hike May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Senator Olin Johnston (D-SC) indicated today that the senate will wait until next session before acting on a committee-approved bill to raise postal rates by $100,000,000 a year.

Johnston, chairman of the post-office committee which approved the bill yesterday, said he doesn't plan to press for action on the legislation now, while lawmakers are adjournment-minded.

Higher postal rates have been urged by the administration. The committee bill falls far short of the $250,000,000 rate increases asked by the postoffice department to help offset a deficit of around $500,000,000.

The house postoffice committee has held hearings on the legislation, but has taken no action.

The bill is intended to increase postal revenues about $33,000,000 annually by raising the one-cent rate on post cards used for business purposes to two cents.

Additional receipts of some $10,000,000 would be released from proposed rate boosts on second class mail, largely newspapers and magazines.

Over the protests of publishers, the post office department had asked for a much sharper increase—$75,000,000 for the first year and another $50,000,000 the second year.

Says Politicians Formed Plan

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Republican leaders told farmers today that the Truman administration's Brannan farm plan was "concocted by labor politicians" as a means of getting cheap food.

If put into effect, they said, the plan would put farmers at the mercy of an "uncertain government dolo" and the government dictation on production.

Opening a two-day farm conference called to get midwestern farmers' ideas on future farm programs, Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson of the GOP national committee and Rep. Hope of Kansas made the Brannan plan and its labor leader supporters their main targets.

Out of the conference Republicans hope to get recommendations that would help them regain farmer support which in last year's presidential election went to President Truman.

Find Farmer at Warsaw Dead

A 77-year-old Warsaw farmer was found dead, lying across his bed with his working clothes on this morning about 7:00 o'clock by a neighbor, Roy Cantrell. Dr. A. W. Moreland, Benton county coroner said the farmer, Jonas Downing of Warsaw, star route, had been dead since Thursday evening and that he died of natural causes, a heart attack, and that an inquest would not be held.

His widow, Mrs. Alda Downing left her husband a couple of days ago, while he finished gathering corn, to visit a son, Kenneth Downing of Iconium, Mo. Mrs. Downing was notified immediately and arrived in Warsaw this morning.

Mr. Downing was born December 13, 1871 in Benton county, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Downing. He was married to Alda Ferguson in the year 1908 and spent his entire married life in and around Benton county.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alda Downing and five children, C. W. Downing of Medill Okla.; Mrs. George Newman of Dallas, Tex.; Earl Downing of Windsor; Kenneth Downing of Iconium; and William Downing of Joplin.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Reser funeral home at Warsaw. Burial will be in the Riverside cemetery at Warsaw.

Rehearsal is Held by Chorale

The Queen City Chorale opened its season Thursday evening with a meeting in the Assembly Hall of the Court House. Dr. Delbert E. Johnson, the conductor, presided over the meeting and announced plans for the year which included the presentation of "The Messiah" at Christmas and the annual Christmas Carol Festival, which was so well received last year.

Dr. Johnson said he hoped the Queen City Chorale would grow as a civic enterprise and one that was not built on the personality of any one individual. He hopes to see the presentation of "The Messiah" become a tradition in Sedalia as it has in other places.

The election of officers was postponed and a nominating committee was elected to present a slate of officers as soon as possible. Following the business session work was begun on several choruses of "The Messiah."

Membership in the Chorale is open to anyone in Sedalia and surrounding towns who is interested in singing dark religious music. Private auditions are not a requisite for membership this year but a high standard of performance will be required and maintained.

Rehearsals are held each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Assembly Hall of the Court House. In addition to the adult Chorale the Boy's Chorale will meet at 7:00 p. m. next Thursday.

Not Dictate To Prosecutor

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A county court cannot dictate the actions of a county prosecuting attorney, Attorney General J. E. Taylor ruled today.

Friend B. Green, Shannon county prosecuting attorney, raised the question. He said the Shannon county court had directed him not to bring suit against the securities of Wright S. Brawley, former county treasurer charged with embezzling county funds.

Assistant Attorney Hugh P. Williamson provided the answer. He said "By no possible construction of the laws of Missouri could it be found that a county court could determine who a prosecuting attorney would or would not sue."

HISTORY REWRITTEN — This picture of Lincoln and his generals, long credited to Mathew Brady, is now credited to Alexander Gardner.

By Irving Desfor
AP Newfeatures

Mark down on your photo calendar: "St. Louis—Oct. 19-22" and "Rochester—Nov. 9." All travel-minded camera fans with a yen for self education and betterment would do well to find themselves in those cities on those dates.

The Photographic Society of America opens its 1949 convention in St. Louis Oct. 19. There, for four days, you'll be running into photo experts, listening to top lectures, seeing actual demonstrations and viewing great picture exhibitions. In spite of a crowded schedule of interesting events, it would be a shame not to bring along a camera for some "shooting" as well as "shouting."

On Nov. 9, in Rochester, N. Y., the George Eastman House will be opened to the public. Its purposes, its facilities and its activities are likely to make it the wherever pictures — past, present or future — are involved.

Such an institute should become a mecca for people with varied picture interests. There'll be amateur snapshooters, professionals, technical specialists and also writers, editors, scholars and historians who use, or study, pictures.

Eastman was an extensive collector in the photo field with foreign acquisitions as well as historic U. S. items. Among these, available for public view with the opening, will be such Daguerre cameras sold in the United States with the bill of sale, dated April 15, 1840. It shows that Dr. Bemis, a Boston dentist, paid $51 for the camera and apparatus, $2 apiece for 12 plates and $1 for freight. Dr. Bemis's first picture, a daguerrotype of King's Chapel Burying Ground, is on view too. It is the oldest known photograph taken in Boston and the third oldest in the United States.

Due to the extensive research work involved, photographic history has been written. Sometimes, it is re-written! For instance, a newly discovered evidence shows that a famous picture of Abraham Lincoln on the battlefield of Antietam, till now credited to Mathew Brady, is really the work of Alexander Gardner. An original print of this Lincoln photo is included in Gardner's two volume "Sketch Book of the War". The print is clearly marked "Alex. Gardner, photographer."

This memorial to the founder of the Eastman Kodak Co. is intended as a public educational institute in the photographic field. Now let me quote some of its ideas: "With facilities for exhibitions, demonstrations, lectures and the showing of motion pictures, the institute will be a national and international center for conferences on photography; for research in its history, science and application; for the education of school children by guided tours; for meetings of camera clubs and photographic organizations; for demonstrations of the latest apparatus and processes; for the screening of both historical and modern motion pictures; and for other related purposes."

Good Time, Driven By Frank Ervin Wins

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Classy little Good Time, owned by Hambletonian promoter William H. Kane of Goshen, N. Y., today won the richest pacing event in history, the fourth annual Little Brown Jug.

The fast-stepping bay colt, driven cleverly by 42-year-old Frank Ervin of Sedalia, Mo., whipped 15 of the country's fleetest three-year-old sidewheelers.

The win by the highly favored Good Time was worth $23,312.53, boosting his winnings for the year to $48,415 and his two year "take" to $98,848.

The Jug, in which Stormy Way of the Saunders Mills stables of Toledo took second money of $13,113.30, was worth $58,231.30.

Toronto Wins Softball Crown

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Toronto's Tip Top Tailors are the world's softball champions of 1949.

The Canadians battled through an 18-inning duel against Clearwater, Fla., here last night to win the world's series of softball, 3-1.

Rightfielder Art Upper socked a two run single in the 18th frame to wind up a bitter pitching duel between Clearwater's Herb Dudley and Toronto's Rush Johnson and Charlie Justice.

Dudley, who in 2 days of tournament play struck out 89 batters in 46 innings of ball, pitched perfect ball for six and one-third innings before walking a man. Then Justice came into the lineup as a pinch hitter and sent the game into extra innings when he socked a single scoring Catcher Len Gaul.

The Clearwater hurler set down 12 Toronto batters while the teammates counted eight safeties off the Toronto pair. He gave up 10 hits. Justice whiffed 13 men in the 12 frames he worked.

Golfer Gives His Opinion

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—There isn't an amateur golfer in the country that can waltz around the course with another good amateur and expect to win.

That's the opinion of Frank Stranahan of Toledo, who was one of the fortunate favorites to advance to the quarter-finals of the Western Amateur Golf tournament today.

Stranahan beat Donald Shock, Jr., Dayton, Ohio, 3 and 2, and Alex Welsh, Rockford, Ill., 1 up yesterday.

Defending champion Robert (Skee) Riegel, Upper Darby, Pa., was eliminated in the second round, 1 up, by Thomas Sullivan, Miami (Fla.) university student from Chicago. Sullivan holed a 30-foot uphill putt on the 18th green of the Bellerive Country club course, a 6,505-yard layout.

"There's just not enough difference between the good amateur players to label any one man as an outstanding favorite," Stranahan said. "You can't figure a match 6 and 5 anymore. That kind of a forecast likely winds up with the underdog winning 1 up."

Stranahan, who has won every major amateur meet with the exception of the National, was paired today with John Jacobs, III, five-time Iowa champion from Cedar Rapids.

May Transfer The Browns Franchise

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul conferred Wednesday over possibility of getting the franchise of the St. Louis Browns of the American League transferred to the twin cities.

Milwaukee, Dallas and Los Angeles have placed bids for the St. Louis club as reports persisted that the franchise is up for possible transfer.

Mayors Eric Hoyer of Minneapolis and Edward K. Delaney of St. Paul said they had no idea how much money would be required for such a move which would take two or three years.

Two Seriously Hurt In Princeton Wreck

PRINCETON, Mo., Sept. 23.—(AP)—One man was injured critically and a woman seriously hurt today in an accident involving a motor car and a road maintainer.

George Renfro, 64, who was operating the road machine, was injured critically. He was taken to a hospital here and later transferred to one at Des Moines. The full extent of his injuries were not determined.

Mrs. Maxine Hart, 20, a passenger, in the motor car, suffered a broken jaw and other injuries. Her husband, Clifford Hart, 27, escaped injury.

Sheriff Clay George quoted him as saying he did not see the road maintainer before he struck it from behind.

First Batch Of 1949 Grid Predictions

Austin Bealmear AP Sportswriter "Gives 'Em as He Sees 'Em"

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Ready or not, here we come with the first batch of pigskin predictions for 1949. There are some tough ones carded for this September week-end and most teams don't yet know their own strength. But here's the way we see 'em:

Michigan State vs Michigan—For the third straight year it looks like a two-horse race between Michigan and Notre Dame for the so-called national championship. Michigan, however, barely squeezed past Michigan State in last year's opener and may find Saturday's game as rough as anything on its schedule. One shaky vote for Michigan.

Indiana vs. Notre Dame—there's nothing to indicate that Notre Dame won't be as powerful as ever. Frank Leahy has benches full of sophs to offset last year's graduation losses. Indiana's courage in leading off with the Irish deserves applause. But the vote goes overwhelmingly to Notre Dame.

No Trouble For Tulane Tulane vs Alabama—Coach Henry Franka has nearly everybody back from a Tulane team that lost one game last year. With that setup, the Green Wave might give Michigan and Notre Dame a wrestle for the national title. No trouble sighted here Tulane.

Oklahoma vs Boston College—The Sugar Owl champs slipped up only once last year. That was in their opener. They aren't likely to make the same mistake in this intersectional headliner Friday night, although BC boasts a slick passing attack. A slim vote for Oklahoma.

Navy vs Southern California—having ended a string of defeats by tying Army in the 1948 finale, Navy is ready to sink somebody with a broadside. But Southern Cal is being tabbed as the pride of the Pacific coast. A confident nod to Southern California.

Purdue vs Northwestern—the Wildcats, Rose Bowl champs, returned with All-America Art Murawski and most of his old buddies. Purdue has been playing its best game on opening day, but that won't be enough. Northwestern.

Davidson vs Army—nothing to get excited about here, although it might give us something of a tip on what to expect from our future officers the rest of the season. Mark it down for Army.

Vanderbilt vs. Georgia Tech—if Bill Edwards has succeeded in installing the "T" on a club that won eight straight in '48 after a slow start, Vandy will be hard to catch. In a close one, Vanderbilt.

Villanova vs. Penn State—this one could go either way. Villanova's 35-0 route of Texas A. and M. isn't to be sneezed at. But neither are the Nittany Lions. One of the hat, Penn State.

Iowa over UCLA UCLA vs. Iowa—Red Sanders left a lot of material at Vanderbilt but that 35-13 triumph over Oregon State last week indicates he took on some at UCLA. Iowa is favored but we'll take UCLA.

Wake Forest vs. Southern Methodist—Doak Walker and his Mustang mates aren't taking this one lightly. Southern Methodist.

Harvard vs. Stanford—it will be a nice trip for the boys from Harvard, but not very profitable. Stanford.

Running rapidly over the rest of the week-end's better games:

Friday Games Mississippi over Auburn, Georgia over Chattanooga, Boston U. over Syracuse, Detroit over Tulsa, College of Pacific over Loyola, Drake over Emporia, Washington and Lee over Furman.

Saturday: Fast Texas over Temple, William and Mary over Pittsburgh, Columbia over Amherst, Cornell over Niagara, Yale over Connecticut, Princeton over Lafayette, Holy Cross over Georgetown, Colgate over Buffalo, Rutgers over Kings Point.

Midwest Minnesota over Washington, Ohio State over Missouri, Illinois over Iowa State, Wisconsin over Marquette, Nebraska over South Dakota, Hardin-Simmons over Cincinnati, Miami (Ohio) over Wichita, West Virginia over Ohio U.

South North Carolina over North Carolina State, Tennessee over Mississippi State, Kentucky over Louisiana State, Duke over Richmond, Maryland over Virginia Tech, Virginia over George Washington, Florida over the Citadel.

Southwest Texas Christian over Oklahoma A. and M., Baylor over South Carolina, Rice over Clemson, Texas A. and M. over Texas Tech, Arkansas over North Texas State, Wyoming over New Mexico, Arizona over New Mexico A. and M.

Far West California over St. Mary's, Kansas over Colorado, Oregon over Idaho, Washington State over Montana, Utah over Oregon State, Denver over Colorado A. and M., Santa Clara over San Jose State.

First Out in Double Play

Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phils is forced at second in the third inning as shortstop Roy Smalley of the Chicago Cubs touches the bag, leaps in air to avoid Ashburn's spikes, and gets off a throw to double the hitter, Dick Sisler, at first. Second baseman Bob Ramazotti circles behind second. The game was played in Chicago. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Neither Cards Nor Brooks Can Afford to Lose Games

By Joe Reichler

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Jackie Robinson hit the nail on the head today when he said, "It's going to be really rough from here on in."

What the Brooklyn Dodger second baseman meant was that neither the Brooks nor the front-running St. Louis Cardinals could afford to lose any more as the games dwindled down to a precious few.

The thinnest of margins—a half game—separated the two deadly rivals following the Brooks rousing 19-6 triumph over the Cards last night. The Brooks have played one more game than the Cards and lost it. That could prove the difference.

"The half game lead they (Cards) hold might be a big break," manager Burt Shotton of the Dodgers said. "They still have the advantage. We're not going to win them all, but neither are they."

"We can't worry about them, however," he added. "We've got to get out there and win as many as we can."

The Dodgers have six games left, only two of them at home. They play two with the Phils in Brooklyn and meet the Braves twice in Boston.

Dodgers vs. Phillies Saturday The Flatbush crew is idle today, but engage the Phillies in a night game tomorrow.

Eddie Dyer, the Red Birds' manager, was optimistic despite the one-sided defeat.

"We're still in front," he said, "and they've got to catch us. Also remember we took the season's series from them."

The Cards are idle today, but resume action against the Chicago Cubs tomorrow night.

At Sportsman's park they have five games left with the Cubs and two with Pittsburgh.

American League Unchanged While the Dodgers mopped up the Cards before 30,765 fans at Sportsman's park, the American League pennant race remained unchanged. The first place New York Yankees' scheduled night game with last place Washington was rained out. The second place Boston Red Sox, who trail the Yanks by two games, were idle as was the rest of the American League.

Brooklyn belted Red Munger and five St. Louis relief pitchers for 19 hits. The Dodgers scored in every inning except the second and seventh.

Carl Furillo led the massacre, driving home seven runs on three doubles and two singles. Gil Hodges knocked home five on three singles. Duke Snider contributed two doubles and two singles to the attack that saw all but Pee Wee Reese and Spider Jorgensen collect at least one safely.

Hatten Glider to Victory Lefty Joe Hatten, who had failed to finish against the Cards in six previous starts, glided to his 12th victory. Hatten allowed two hits over the first five rounds and then eased up and granted eight in the last four. Two of the Cards hits were homers by Stan Musial—his 34th—and Tommy Glaviano. Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers regained the circuit batting lead from the Cards' Enos Slaughter. Robinson banded out two hits in four trips to boost his mark from 342 to 343. Slaughter went hitless in five trips and dropped from 345 to 342.

In other National League games the Pirates blanked the Boston Braves, 1-0, behind Murry Dickson; Chicago edged Philadelphia, 3-2, and the New York Giants divided with the Reds in Cincinnati, winning the first game, 3-1, and dropping the second, 8-4.

Louise Suggs Leads In Women's National

LANDOVER, Md., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Louise Suggs shot a brilliant six-under-par 69 to take the first round lead in the Women's National Open Golf Tournament at Prince Georges Country Club.

The Cincinnati Professional, holder of the Women's Western Open and Tam O'Shanter titles, posted the lowest round in the four year history of the meet going out in 36 and touring the second nine in 33.

Three strokes behind in second place came Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N. D. The Pasadena champion and semi-finalist in the National amateur last year was three under par with 35-37 for 72 over the opening 18 holes.

Former Open Champ Patty Berg of Chicago, the newly-elected president of the Ladies' PGA, posted a 38-35-73 over the 6,892-yard layout to finish the first round in a third place tie with Alabama State titlist Bee McWane of Birmingham.

The two most disappointing showings were turned in by inter-collegiate titlist Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kas., now a professional, and Betty Jameson of Chicago, the 1947 Open winner.

Miss Smith carded a 92 while Miss Jameson came up with a 79

Spotlight on Missouri and Oklahoma

Tigers vs. Colorado Saturday; Sooners Play Boston Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Colorado Buffaloes and the Kansas University Jayhawks kick off the 1949 Big Seven Conference football race tomorrow afternoon with the Buffs trying to break a 44-year jinx.

The game at Boulder, Colo., is the only conference activity. Tonight the Oklahoma Sooners tackle the Boston College Eagles on the eastern team's gridiron. Four other conference schools meet non-league foes tomorrow afternoon or night.

Colorado and Kansas have met eight times since they first clashed in 1903. Colorado has won only one of the meetings, plastering a 15-0 defeat on the Jayhawks in 1905. That was the only loss K. U. suffered that year while running up 10 victories.

Chartered Planes In Use The Kansas squad had a practice scheduled for this afternoon on the Denver University field. Two chartered planes were to fly the Jayhawks to Denver from Topeka this morning.

Coach J. V. Sikes ran his charges through a 90-minute drill yesterday before naming a starting lineup that will likely give the Kansas an eight-pound per man edge in the line. The lineup will be the Jayhawks heaviest since the war and will mark the first time since 1947 that Kansas has gone into a game with a weight advantage up front.

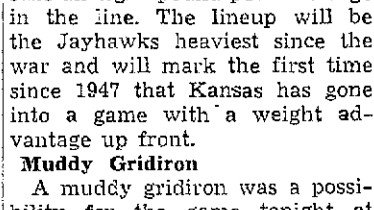

Muddy Gridiron A muddy gridiron was a possibility for the game tonight at Boston and Coach Bud Wilkinson feared sloppy going would hamstring the Oklahoma's split-T.

A Missouri squad of 46 was en route to Columbus for the game with Ohio State. Coach Don Faurot named his squad after a light drill yesterday.

The Iowa State Cyclones went through a passing drill yesterday with Bill Weeks doing most of the chucking as they finished work for their game with Illinois.

Nebraska meets South Dakota at Lincoln, Neb., tomorrow afternoon and Fort Hays (Kas.) State plays Kansas State tomorrow night at Manhattan, Kas., in other non-conference games.

The Kansas State lineup will be liberally sprinkled with sophomores. Coach Ralph Graham says either five or six will start. If Dennis Kane gets the call at full-back over veteran Gerald Hackney the Wildcats will be depending on an all-sophomore backfield.

Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phils is forced at second in the third inning as shortstop Roy Smalley of the Chicago Cubs touches the bag, leaps in air to avoid Ashburn's spikes, and gets off a throw to double the hitter, Dick Sisler, at first. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Scoring in all but the second and seventh innings, the Brooklyn Dodgers battered six St. Louis pitchers into almost total submission last night to deal the Cards a humiliating 19-6 defeat and shave their first-place lead to a mere half game.

In winning the rubber of the three-game set, the Brooks ended the season's series with the Cards with 10 victories and 12 defeats. They accumulated 19 hits of all sizes and descriptions. Only Pee Wee Reese and spider Jorgensen failed to participate in the hitfest, and only pitcher Joe Hatten failed to cross the plate at least once.

Outfielder Carl Furillo pounded out five hits in six times at bat and drove in seven runs. Three of his blows were doubles. Duke Snider collected four safeties. Jackie Robinson, who regained his league batting leadership from Enos Slaughter—343 to 342—tallied four times. Gene Hermanski smacked a two-run single in the first inning, and thereafter drew five bases on balls. The Dodgers received 13 passes in all.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Have you noticed how the Yankees so often play bad baseball when they're up against a bad ball club (Wednesday's game with the White Sox was a perfect example) then come through in the tough games? . . . If they continue that way, Casey Stengel's crumples shouldn't have much more trouble. Five of their remaining games are against the threatening Red Sox. . . . The Cardinals' Nippy Jones has become a prominent member of the Ted Williams-Bill Veck I-don't-wear-ties club.

Poly-ticked Off On the letterhead of the Democratic state committee of Missouri comes the following note: "Some of the nicest fellows just seem to slide downhill. Take Al Hermann, now. He won eleven letters at Colgate U. and graduates as president of his class. Then he went with the Boston Braves. After that he slipped over into the minors. The International league, the Texas league, the Eastern league. . . . Just one losing team after another. Last week poor Al hit bottom. He became executive director of the Republican national committee."

Meeting For Hunters And Fishermen

To Discuss Wildlife Problems And Plan For Reorganization

A meeting for hunters and fishermen will be held in the circuit court room of the court house at 7:30 Wednesday night, September 28, it was announced today by E. C. Wollet, president of the Pettis County Conservation Club.

The purpose of the meeting, Wollet said, will be to discuss some of the wildlife problems of this area, and to start a revival of the local club, which for several years has been inactive. Local sportsmen recently have pointed out the need for an active organization here to represent the county in state conservation affairs, and to see to it that Pettis county is not neglected in such matters as fish and game restocking, fishing lake development, and similar projects.

Callison To Be Here Charles Callison of Boonville, executive secretary of the Conservation Federation of Missouri, will be here to discuss the activities and aims of the state organization and to explain how a Pettis county club can fit into the picture. The federation is a state wide association of conservation clubs, presently composed of 63 active chapters. The Boonville Rod and Gun Club and the Saline County Conservation Club, for example, are federation chapters in neighboring counties.

Paul Shepard, Jr., new field secretary of the federation, also will be here. Shepard, a graduate in wildlife management at the University of Missouri, was employed during the past summer as ranger-naturalist at Crater Lake National Park, Oregon.

Wollet said arrangement are being made to show some interesting hunting and fishing movies at the meeting. William A. Stuesse, wildlife conservation agent for this district, and other officials of the State Conservation Commission, will be invited to attend.

Farmers, as well as Sedalia sportsmen, were urged to come to the meeting. One of the problems to be discussed, Wollet said, is the headache which farmers have in hunters who run across their lands without bothering to ask permission. Sportsman-farmer cooperation is one of the principal objectives of the state federation and its member clubs.

Rabbit Regulations Another subject will be rabbit regulations. Some local hunters have blamed unrestricted hunting and live-trapping for the shortage of cotton tails in recent years.

Also of specific local interest will be a report on the project through which Pettis, Cooper and Saline counties are cooperating to try to get a state fishing lake located and developed within the tri-county area.

"This is a meeting for all hunters and fishermen and anyone else interested in conservation," Wollet said. "Many farmers are also hunters and fishermen, and they should be in this club."

"Quail hunters, duck hunters, coon hunters, fox hunters, rabbit hunters, fly casters, bait casters, or just plain fishermen—all are invited to attend."
